By The Associated Press

..ASHINGTON, Nov. 16—The ..ministration, in a toe to toe ..own fight with defiant ..n L. Lewis, sought grimly to.. .. hold 400,000 soft coal ..ners to a government contract .. attorney general says is bind-

.. official was telling just ..at will be done if Lewis per.. .. in his contention that he .. and will terminate the con.. .. next Wednesday midnight, ..ing production at the 3,300 ..ernment-operated mines.

But there was talk that for a ..mer Secretary of the Interior ..ug may take to the radio, tell .. miners their chief's maneuver .. no legal justification and ask ..m to keep on mining coal.

Avoid "Martyr" Implication

Although represented as de..mined not to put Lewis in the ..e of "martyr" those concerned .. the fuel crisis spoke of:

1) Possible action under the ..th-Connally act, which pro..es a year in prison and a $5,000 ..e for inciting a strike against .. government.

2) A special session of the ..e duck congress to enact new ..s forbidding strikes in so vital .. industry as coal mining.

..e Lewis position, however, is .. there simply will be no valid ..tract in existence after the ..mination time he has set—and .. United Mine Workers do not ..k without a contract.

Clashes with Clark

Underscoring the gravity of the ..ation, the solid fuels admin..ation said the nation had only ..7-day supply of fuel on hand, ..pared with the 42-day stock .. before last spring's crippling ..-month walkout.

A proposal by Krug that Lewis ..gotiate with the mine operators .. 60 days for a contract under ..ich the diggings could go back .. private operation, meanwhile ..ping the miners on their jobs, .. on deaf ears.

Spurns Truman Appeal

Lewis stood by his contention .. the phrasing of the contract ..mitted him to call it off on .. notice. As for the proposal .. negotiate with the operators, already had told Krug:

The mine workers do not pro..e to deal with parties who ..e no status under that con..t. We do not propose to be ..en like dumb beasts to the ..ghter of slow strangulation ..sioned by your proposal in .. operators' well-known and .. used actics of delay.

By The Associated Press

LIBRARY, Pa., Nov. 16—With Christmas just around the cor.. John L. Lewis' coal miners in this western Pennsylvania com.. .. aren't looking forward to a strike with pleasure, but, they .. their leaders tell them their contract is void, they will quit ..

Thomas McMonagle, who at 71 still works a regular shift in .. Montour No. 10 mine, said: .. not much for this striking ..ness but I also don't believe ..orking without a contract."

Other Montour miners also were somewhat critical of their leaders.

"Lewis got a good deal and should have left well enough alone," asserted John Snock. "I

Store Moves To New Room

Sutton and Lightner Occupy Newly Constructed Building on Prospect St.

Sutton and Lightner's opened their new $150,000 store on South Prospect street near West Center Friday.

The store will probably not be fully complete until next spring, Ray T. Sutton and John R. Lightner, co-partners, said, but the main sales rooms are now ready for business and a formal opening will probably be held soon.

The establishment sells women's and children's ready-to-wear clothing and jewelry and other accessories.

Moves to New Building

The firm moved Thursday from 193 West Center street, where it had been located for 16 years. The new building was started last March. It is a one-story, concrete block building with a 75 feet frontage and 135 feet depth. It contains 10,000 square feet of floor space, most of which is taken up by two large selling rooms, separated by a large archway.

The front room has a terrazzo floor. On either side of the room showcases will be arranged in semi-octagon form. The rear room, of considerable dimensions, is carpeted and is lined with oak-finished showcases and 14 fitting cubicles.

Lighting is combination fluorescent and incandescent. Mirrors line the walls of both rooms. The rear part of the building houses offices, alteration rooms and public lavatories.

A small room in the rear part of the building has been reserved for showing and sale of women's high-priced garments. There is a rear public entrance.

Air Conditioned

The ceiling of the store is constructed of accoustic material to deaden noise. The store is air-conditioned. Concealed pneumatic tubes move cash from sales counter to offices in the rear for making change. The sales force is double that of the firm's former store. About 30 people now are employed.

The front of the store is almost entirely composed of glass. Four glass doors will be installed. Two show windows 20 feet wide and 12 feet high have been installed. Above and below the windows a type of Virginia black stone will be installed, and 14-inch evergreen plants will be planted across the front of the building.

CIO MOVES TO HEAL DIVISION

By The Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 16—A committee of six CIO leaders, equally divided along ideological lines, strove today to formulate a statement that would end the left wing-right wing warfare that has torn many CIO unions during the last few months.

The committee, appointed by President Philip Murray in secret, was disclosed by other persons on the CIO executive board, as including three outspoken anti-Communists: Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers; Emil Rieve, president of the Textile Workers, and Milton Murray, president of the American Newspaper Guild.

The other three—Michael Quill, president of the Transport Workers Union; Abram Flaxer, president of the United Public Workers, and Ben Gold, president of the Fur and Leather Workers—represent the indefinable element in the CIO known as the "left wing." Some persons identified with this group

Most Installment Buying Curbs To Be Ended by Christmas

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—The federal reserve board is ending, in time for Christmas, all controls over consumer credit except installment purchases of autos, radios, furniture and nine other kinds of durable goods.

Effective Dec. 1, the board eliminated requirements that charge accounts be settled in 70 days and single repayment loans in 90. For the first time in five years parties to these deals now may work out their own terms.

Restrictions will no longer apply to time payments on durable goods involving credit of less than $50 or more than $2,000, the board announced last night.

Between those limits, the board still will require a one-third down payment on automobiles, refrigerators, cooking stoves and ranges, washing machines, ironers, dishwashers, air conditioners, radios and phonographs sewing machines and vacuum cleaners.

However, buyers may have 15 months to pay for these articles instead of the present 12 month limit on all but automobiles, where the 15 month term already is in effect.

On furniture and soft-surface floor coverings, the down payment will continue to be 20 per cent. The payment time on these was extended from 12 to 15 months.

U. S. Gives Prod To Romania On Free Elections

Sends New Note with Expectation That It Will Be Ignored.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—The United States gave Romania another pre-election prod today to guarantee opposition parties a square deal in Tuesday's balloting.

That was the main point behind the formal language of a note handed the Soviet-sponsored Romanian government by Burton Y. Berry, United States political representative in Bucharest.

The new note was put out here by the state department. It said the American government "assumes" the Romanian government shares its view that "all parties represented in these elections should participate on equal terms."

It was only an assumption, though. The United States had no more assurances than that when Romania first began getting ready for the voting months ago.

Fourth Note

Today's note was fourth in a chain dating back to last May. If Romania follows the pattern of the past, she will send back a politely worded answer—and go right ahead with election plans tailored to her own desires.

There were no indications the United States might pull Berry out of Bucharest by way of rebuke, if Romania ignores American protests against preparations for the balloting.

In London a foreign office spokesman said the British representative in Bucharest had been instructed to send a new note to the Romanian government rejecting a contention that Britain had no right to express concern over the forthcoming Romanian elections.

(A usually reliable source in Bucharest said that both the United States and British representatives there had asked to see the Romanian foreign minister today to give him notes concerning the election.)

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Nov. 15—(Delayed) — Teohari Georgescu, Romania's communist minister of the interior, said tonight propaganda and the press had been unhindered in the campaign for next Tuesday's parliamentary election and the election itself would be free.

The 38-year-old official, at a conference for foreign newsmen, was questioned as to whether all candidates had been given equal time on the radio. He said he had not been approached on the subject since he was minister of the interior.

Condition of Recognition

(The United States and Britain recognized the Romanian government last Feb. 5 on condition that free elections would be held.)

Georgescu, who read a 1,500-word statement of the government's viewpoint said 7,908,714 persons over 21 had registered for the election, in which women will vote for the first time.

Georgescu acknowledged the government had carried on arms searchers and arrested more than 200 opposition party members, but said the arrests were justified since those arrested had borne arms illegally or broken other laws. He added that he had ordered freed all opposition candidates under arrest, except those awaiting trial by military courts, and the last of them were reported at liberty tonight.

TWO MARION GROUPS PICK AFL UNIONS

Other OPS Workers Divide Between CIO and AFL.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16—Elections at Ohio Public Service Co. plants in Alliance, Mansfield and Lorain by production and maintenance workers gave the CIO Utility Workers union collective bargaining rights while distribution workers selected the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the national labor relations board reported today.

Production and mintenance employes at the O.P.S. plant at Dilles Bottom also voted for the CIO union, and distribution workers at Massilion, Vermillion, Elyria, Port Clinton, Sandusky, Bellevue and Ashland favored the AFL brotherhood, the NLRB said.

Except at Marion, O., where the AFL-International Union of Operating Engineers was named bargaining agent, the CIO group has won all elections among the company's production and maintenance employes and the AFL union has been chosen by all O.P.S. distribution employes.

GIANT CRACKDOWN IN FILM STRIKE. Rivalling a Cecil B. DeMille production in its enormity the biggest strike demonstration in Hollywood history took place before a movie studio. As a result, the city's jails were overflowing as police arrested 1,000 pickets, charging them with violation of a court injunction limiting pickets. Among the first to be arrested was Herb Sorrell, president of the Conference of Studio Unions, which called the jurisdictional strike against 10 major film studios two months ago. BOND ISSUE UP FOR DISCUSSION TONIGHT

Hospital Proposal on Program at Public Meeting.

Fate of a $200,000 bond issue for construction of a fire-proof addition to City hospital or other improvements there will be discussed at a public meeting at Central Junior High school at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The meeting was called by city council to sound out public opinion on the issue. The bonds, authorized in the general election of 1941, must be issued by Dec. 31 or the issue will become dead.

Although the bonds were authorized by council in 1942, they never were issued because of shortage of materials. Later a federal grant was obtained with which the present addition to City hospital was built.

MOVIE PICKETS AGAIN INVITE MASS ARREST

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16—Again inviting quick removal to jail, striking movie unionists and their supporters began marching before Columbia studio today—but in numbers far below yesterday's mass demonstrations.

With several hundred of their fellows still in jail—some booked after waiting nearly 24 hours—only about 300 strode out of Gower Gulch and up to the studio gates. Police, following a now-familiar pattern, read a court order limiting pickets to eight per gate and ordering all but the legal number to disperse. When this was ignored, the helmeted police, gas masks hanging from their belts moved in and started making arrests.

There was no violence and pickets again seemed eager to hop aboard the patrol wagon to ride to already bulging jails.

150-YEAR PLANNING BRINGS CHURCH UNITY

(More about church merger on Page 7)

By The Associated Press

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 16—A century and a half of planning by two closely allied religious groups came to fruit today as the Evangelical and United Brethren in Christ churches united to become the Evangelical United Brethren church.

The merged church is the tenth largest in the United States with a membership of 714,000, and missionary representation on every continent. The former Evangelical church had 260,000 members in 30 states while the United Brethren in Christ had 454,000 in 38 states.

First proposed early in the 19th century, the union was sealed this morning in colorful ceremonies at historic Christ Church here.

Bishop A. R. Clippinger of Dayton, the senior bishop, read the declaration of union.

KILLED WHEN MACHINE HITS UTILITY POLE

Car Stolen Here Demolished in Crash at Routes 30 and 98 Intersection.

Two Marion men were instantly killed this morning at 1:15 a. m. when the car in which they were riding went out of control, struck a utility pole and rolled over in a field. The accident occurred on a curve in Route 30-S at the junction of Route 98.

The victims were Troy Donald Miller, 26, of 349 Girard avenue and Ansel Clifford Glenn, 27, of 152½ North Main street. Miller was driver of the car.

The state highway patrol said the automobile was owned by Robert M. Davis of 135 Garden street and had been stolen earlier in the evening. When Mr. Davis was informed early this morning that his car had been in an accident he checked and reported it was missing from where he had parked it near his home.

Highway Patrol Notified

The patrol was notified of the wreck by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Creasap, proprietors of the Creasap filling station on Harding highway. Mrs. Creasap said they were awakened this morning by a motorist who said that a car had just passed him going about 85 miles an hour and he believed it had gone off the road into a cornfield.

The Creasaps and other neighbors, who had been awakened by the noise of the wreck, investigated but were unable to get into the field and near the car because of high tension wires which were lying about the wreckage and casting off sparks. The car was not approachable until the power was shut off.

Witnesses said the car was demolished and parts of it scattered for a radius of 30 feet. The utility pole was torn out of the ground and broken into several pieces. The car rolled over three times in the field.

Worked on Pipeline

Miller was employed on the Sinclair pipeline project which was recently constructed through Marion county and is now being carried further north. He had formerly worked on a farm at Little Sandusky, owned by his uncle, Manuel Miller. He attended Edison Junior High school.

City police said Miller was on parole from Mansfield reformatory, where he had been serving a sentence for burglary.

He was born in Marion, Sept. 16, 1919, son of George W. and Bertha Young Miller. His father is dead and his mother now is Mrs. M. M. McKim of North Prospect street. Also surviving are a brother and three sisters, Gerald, of 780 Jackson street, Mrs. Jeanette Ulery of 309 South Grand avenue, Mrs. Georgia Parrish of near Richwood, and Mrs. Thelma Wilson of Broadway, O.

Funeral services will be held at the Hughes Mortuary Sunday at 4 p. m. Rev. C. E. Hershey of Emmanuel Baptist church will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Glen cemetery.

Glenn was employed by the Steward Construction Co. He was born in Fostoria, son of Carl and Sadie Wallace Glenn, but lived in Marion almost all of his life. His mother now lives in Columbus. He was married last Aug. 26 to Miss Ernestine Ray, who survives with the following brothers and sisters, Homer, Harold and Mrs. Justa Thomas of Marion and Mrs. Warren Erick of Chesapeake, O.

The body will be sent Monday from the L. A. Axe Funeral Home to Vinton county, where burial will be made. Friends may call at the Axe Funeral home Sunday after 12 noon.

Cold Wave's Forward Edge Reaches Midwest

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 16—The cold air mass moving across the midwest had its forward edge entering Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and extreme western Arkansas this morning and was expected to reach the Chicago area this afternoon.

The predicted high temperature for Chicago today was 54, with the mercury dropping to 26 by tonight and somewhat lower Sunday. It will be the first hard freeze of the season for the Chicago area.

In the central portion of the country, many football fans were disappointed by the bad weather. An extensive rain belt, moving ahead of the cold air, reached from northern Michigan to Louisiana and was between 200 and 300 miles wide in the Chicago area and 100 to 200 miles wide in the gulf region. It was moving eastward.

Santa Claus To Launch Marion's Christmas Shopping Season with Gala Parade Nov. 29

Details of Marion's Santa Claus parade, which will officially open the Christmas shopping season here Friday, Nov. 29, were reported today by the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

This year's parade will surpass those of other years in length and beauty, Chamber officials report, with eight floats, three bands, flags of the United Nations, story book characters, and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus included.

The parade will move from the Ohio Public Service Co's terminal building on West Center street east to Main street, south on Main to Church St., east on Church street to State street, north on State to Center street, west on Center street to the courthouse and north on Main to the first alley. The parade will be held at noon.

Units in Parade

Boy Scouts, school units and 4-H club representatives will be included in the parade. Fifteen flags of the United Nations will be carried by Boy Scouts from various troops in the city and several of the county's 4-H clubs are expected to enter floats. Judges for the floats will be Cutler McGrew, A. L. Bintz and Kenneth Staats. The 4-H club floats will be judged before the parade.

At least three school bands, the Harding High school band, the Richwood band and the Caledonia band, are expected to participate, along with 18 story book characters. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will ride on their own float which will stop in front of the courthouse for a few minutes so that the children may say hello to Santa. The floats will be pulled by three tractors.

Parade Chairman

William Preston is chairman in charge of the parade. Parade marshals will be assigned to assist in forming the parade and keeping it evenly spaced as it moves down the streets.

A majority of Marion retailers have indicated their Christmas schedules will begin Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27, the Chamber reports, with their stores remaining open each Wednesday afternoon until after Christmas. A majority of the stores also will remain open on Friday, Saturday and Monday nights, Dec. 20, 21 and 23 and will close Christmas eve at 5:30 p. m.

An elaborate display of street decorations also is planned for this year with street light decorations, laurel and pine wreaths.

Plan for Small House Is Answer to Call for Minimum Cost

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

Utmost Economy in This House Plan

A tremendous number of the letters and inquiries received by the distributors of small house plans stresses the necessity of both economy and self-building possibilities. With these fundabe built without a basement or cellar. The measurements, over-mental ideas in mind, we present the best plan which has crossed our desk since the housing shortage made itself evident.

To begin with, this house can all, are only twenty feet by twenty-six feet six inches; and these are subject to reduction. The roof is what is known as "shed construction." In other words, the roof supports are laid from front to back wall in parallel lines without any ridge-board, roof-rafters, tie-beams, mitreing, or rafters, tie-beams, mitreing, or framing. The interior partition which divides the living room and the kitchen from the two bedrooms and the bathroom provides the necessary support for the twenty-foot span. No construction could possibly be cheaper or more simple. The front wall is about six or eight inches higher than the rear wall, and thus provides ample slope for drainage. As far as the exterior goes, the overhang at the front simply adds interest to an otherwise blank front wall, and the small enclosed entry can be made by any one familiar with a hammer and a saw, in two hours time. All window and door openings are standard. Exterior walls may be of shingle, clapboard, flush-siding or asbestos or composition siding.

The interior of this house is composed of a living room, a kitchen, two bedrooms and a bathroom. The interior partition which divide the rooms may be of wall-board, painted or papered to suit the individuals taste. If the owner so elects, the bathroom shown may be moved over to one wall of the house, and instead of two bedrooms there may be an excellent dressing room and a very large bedroom. This would make an ideal home for the middle-aged couple whose married children live elsewhere, for the veteran without children, or for the artist or professional person seeking an economical plan for individual living.

KITCHEN LIGHTING ADVICE OUTLINED

The kitchen is the workroom of the home. The average homemaker spends from five to seven hours a day in the kitchen. Yet kitchen lighting has been altered little in the past decade. Tests made in factories during the war proved that light is the greatest single factor in combating fatigue.

It is true that most kitchen planners nowadays locate the sink beneath a window, yet in actual practice not all kitchens lend themselves to this arrangement. In too many cases the housewife stands in her own light when she prepares foods and is consequently tired and nervous without realizing the cause of the trouble.

An inexpensive light fixture above the sink will pay dividends in convenience and increased efficiency far beyond the cost and trouble of installation. This is true even when the sink has a window above it, for at least a portion of all kitchen tasks must be performed after sun-down.

Fluorescent tubes recessed in the wall above the sink give excellent light and a look of streamlined modernism, but ordinary incandescent bulbs, properly shaded, are equally satisfactory. Well-insulated shock-proof fixtures are a wise choice.

Adapting the charm of American Georgian architecture to the modern small house. A large living room, 14x24, extends through the center of the house, segregating the sleeping quarters to achieve two-story privacy in a one-floor layout. Exterior contrasts are attained with a combination of flush and clapboard siding and a roof of blue-black asphalt shingles.

Asbestos Board Useful in Home

Asbestos cement board can be easily worked with ordinary "home" hand tools. Many users find "scoring" the board with a sharp edge and then breaking it to be the simplest way of obtaining desired size pieces.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Cracked Cement Walk

Q. There is a crack in my cement walk, also a space between the walk and the building, where the cement walk has broken away. During a rainstorm water seeps through into my basement. Could I save the expense of putting down a new walk by cementing the cracks? Could I put some cement on top of the walk, and so fill all cracks and flatten it out?

A. You could not simply pour fresh cement on top of the old walk, as it would not adhere. To do so you would first have to break up the old concrete and use it as a base for a new mixture. You can fill the cracks by first widening and deepening them to about a half-inch depth, keeping the sides of the grooves straight. Brush out loose particles and wet the parts with clear water. Then pack with a fairly stiff mortar mixture of one part portland cement and three parts of clean coarse sand. Keep patches damp for several days. You can fill the space next to the building with asphalt roofing cement.

Color Scheme Advised For Cheerful Kitchen

One color scheme suggested for a kitchen provides for a ceiling of ivory or pale yellow, upper walls of pale blue, a dado of slightly darker blue and woodwork of ivory or pale yellow.

A floor covering of rose and gray linoleum, furniture in [illegible] gray enamel trimmed with yellow and white curtains trimmed with rose are suggested as accessories for such a color scheme.

A Word About Lumber
Decontrol by OPA of lumber and building materials did not accomplish a miracle.
Under controls and priorities we were not able to build up a stock of lumber to have ready for delivery to anyone who asks.
Restraints affected supplies clear back to the tree owners, who did not cut them, up through the saw-mills, dry kilns, shippers, jobbers and finally to us as retailers.
Until this processing from tree to us gets in full swing, there will be no sizable quantities of lumber available to anyone.
Our long years of dealing with certain dependable suppliers will enable us to recover as rapidly as most dealers; and, in the meantime, we feel that our customers will be patient as possible with us knowing that we are making every effort to secure supplies.

Army Officer, 18, Telephones Marion Home from Italy

Second Lt. Harley F. Mooney Jr., 18, one of the youngest officers in the U. S. Army, talked to his mother and father for 10 minutes this morning from Plava, Italy, where is stationed with Co. C, 350th Infantry of the 88th Division. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Mooney of 340 Willow street.

The call came through at 7:15 a. m. and Mrs. Mooney said that the reception was fair. She had been notified Tuesday night by the New York overseas operator that Lt. Mooney was placing a call which was to come through Wednesday. However, they could not get through and the call was canceled until this morning.

Lt. Mooney told his parents he was well and happy, but had received no mail from them since landing overseas at Leghorn, Italy, Oct. 13 of this year. The city of Plava, where he is stationed, is located on the Yugoslav border in northern Italy.

A graduate of Harding High school in June 1945, Lt. Mooney enlisted in the service Oct. 30 of the same year and received his basic training at Fort Worth, Texas. He then entered Officers Candidate School at Ft. Benning, Ga., March 1, 1946, and received his commission Aug. 1. At that time, he spent a 10-day furlough at home and then returned to Ft. McClellan, Ala., for assignment. During his senior year at Harding he was manager of the football team and previous to that had served as assistant manager. Following his graduation from school, he worked as a checker at the Marion Engineer Depot until his enlistment.

Kauble, student work secretary; Mrs. Chester Brooks, status of women secretary and Mrs. Homer D. Cole secretary of supplies.

Mrs. Arthur Smith conducted the devotions and Mrs. Charles Smith, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Earl N. Hale, sang "Teach Me To Pray" and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling." Mrs. Homer Waddell gave a talk on "Religions of India." Mrs. G. E. Hammond served as chairman of the nominating committee for the election.

Mississippi River To Churn Like Old Times As Steamboats Schedule Race

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 16 — Shades of Steamboat Bill and the Robert E. Lee — there's a real race in the making between the Gordon C. Greene and the Golden Eagle, the only tourist excursion boats now plying the nation's inland rivers.

Early this month, Cincinnati's old Gordon emerged victor in an impromptu race with the Eagle of St. Louis, between Greenville, Miss., and Arkansas City, Ark.

Capt. J. Winters, master of the Eagle, operated by the Eagle Packet Co., argued at the time that the price of coal made him ease up on the throttle and permit the oil-burning Gordon Greene to spash by. He wanted a re-match.

Maybe his wish will be fulfilled, for today Capt. Tom Greene, president of the Greene line and master of the Gordon, reported he had issued a challenge to the St. Louis company.

"We'd like to prove the Greenville race was no fluke," he declared.

"I have written a letter to the Eagle Packet telling them we'll be up their way next June 21. I suggested that the Gordon and the Eagle race between St. Louis and Cairo, Ill. That's a distance of about 100 miles.

"Of course, we'll win," the youthful Cap'n Tom said. "But the race will prove the Gordon's got the stuff—upstream, downstream or what have you."

The two packets now are tied up for the winter but the Greene will open its 1947 season in February with a trip to the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

Capt. Greene said the Gordon carried nearly 8,000 passengers during its season just ended.

Dorcas Circle Meets With Mrs. Paul Emery

Dorcas Circle of Central Christian church met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Paul Emery on Windsor street, with Mrs. D. D. Clark as assistant hostess. Plans were made to serve a dinner Friday noon, Nov. 22, for the Youth Fellowship Group. A Christmas party for all the circles of the church was planned for Thursday night, Dec. 12, at the church. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. W. C. Tucker.

During the program hour, in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Dulin, the following topics were presented: "Why We Need World Organization" by Mrs. E. J. Hollandshead; "Conditions That Call for World Peace" by Mrs. Avis Clark; "The Church in the Community" by Mrs. H. J. Hartsell; "Let the Women Have a Place in Peace Organization," by Mrs. Pearl Crall; and "Make Way for World Community Life" by Rev. M. L. Buckley. A discussion on "What Can a Christian Individual Do?" was led by Mrs. J. C. Miller. Mrs. Dorothy Dulin closed the program with a poem, "Peace."

Movie and Shipping Strikes Only Top Issues Except Coal

By The Associated Press

The Hollywood movie labor jurisdictional dispute and the West Coast maritime strike were the only major controversies in addition to coal, on the labor front.

A record 2,000 pickets appeared at Columbia studio yesterday and another mass demonstration was planned. More than 700 were arrested after ignoring orders to disperse under a court injunction. Among those seized was Herbert K. Sorrell, president of the AFL Conference of Studio Unions, which has picketed studios since Sept. 26 in a jurisdictional dispute over set construction with the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes.

In the seven weeks old shipping strike, the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific rejected a proposal that a jurisdictional dispute which has halted shipping at Coos Bay, Ore., be submitted to the AFL and CIO presidents for arbitration. Settlement of this controversy has been demanded by shipowners as a condition for agreement with three striking unions.

Contribution Made To Community Fund

A donation of $5 was made to the community chest fund by the auxiliary to Dyer J. Bird post, Rainbow Division Veterans of Ohio, Friday night in the home of Mrs. A. D. Boyd on Spencer street. A contest was won by Mrs. Cloy Hartshorn. Miss Beverly Norton was a guest. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Carrie Reed on Woodrow avenue.

Anniversary Banquet Planned at Church

Arrangements are nearing completion for the fifth anniversary banquet of "Our House," Epworth Methodist youth center, Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Epworth church.

A program will include an original play, "Snow Bound Snooze," with the characters including Jim Rea, Dick Drollinger, Barbara Klinkman, Grace Colgrove, Suzellen Roest, George Roest Carolyn Burdell, Joan Glasmeyer, John Miller, Paul Dasher, Dick McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, Virginia Stayner, Harold VanGordon, Nancy Indoe, Tom Indoe, Mary Jane Williams, Mrs. Irene Moore, Ronnie Powell and Don Zeisler.

The dinner will be served by W. S. C. S. members of the church. Stanley Moore will be toastmaster, LaVerne Nash will lead singing and special music will be by Miss Arlene Houpt and by the Sunday school orchestra. Dr. V. E. Busler, pastor, will offer the invocation.

Other special features will be an "Album of Memories," by Dave Brown, "Happy Birthday to 'Our House'," by Susan Carhart and Jay Carroll, and "Views of 'Our House'," by "some newcomers." Miss Margaret Huffman is supervising the program and arrangements.

HOBO BY MISTAKE. Foodless for 24 hours, George Drinkwine, above, 10-year-old Troy, N. Y., boy, munches happily on bread and jelly in the Cleveland juvenile detention home after a freight car ride that was all a mistake. George was helping load a railway express agency car in Troy, when he was accidentally locked in as the workers finished loading. His plight was not discovered until the next day, when workmen in the Cleveland railroad yards heard his pounding and sobs. (International News Photo)

Reporter Sees Japan As Future U. S. Ally

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

Hal Boyle

YORK, Nov. 16—Can Japan ...eaten and prostrate enemy ... leader of the Orient ... friend ... ally of ... says Lacerda, ... War veteran and roving ...espondent of Philadelphia ... Bulletin ... will shock ... good many ... but the ... reality is that the new Japan can become a good friend ... ally of the United States," he ...

"She may one day be our first ... of defense in the atomic war ... men who despair over the greedy imperialism of nations ... is inevitable."

He says most Japanese prefer America to Soviet Russia—as a master.

His views are contained in one of the first and best summaries of the first year of occupation in Japan—"The Conqueror Comes to Tea" subtitled "Japan Under MacArthur" (published by Rutgers university press).

Another Correspondent Book

It is another of those "correspondent books" which publishers say have flooded the market ... which they issue because the correspondents, by and large, are still producing the best word pictures of what is happening [illegible].

Lacerda is a serious bespectacled young man of 34 who has traveled widely and has a gift of condensing and combining intricate political situations and foreign human personal problems in direct and readable prose. He has the reporter's eye—the facility for meeting and writing about "such interesting people"—and he tells about Japan in a way that makes it worthwhile for the ex-soldier who served there as well as the highbrowed people who want to know what is behind what is going on there.

He places the future of Japan squarely upon the United States, the country which played the major role in sending it back from swords to flowers.

"It is up to us," he writes. "The Japanese nation is today in a state of flux. The people are bewildered. The teachings and beliefs of centuries are dead or dying. The nation gropes, childlike, for something secure.

Appear To Be Succeeding

"If we can successfully shape the clay to the pattern of democracy, we shall not regret the result. If we fail, then Japan will again become a festering sore spot. We appear to be succeeding. Step by step we have been drawing the nation out of the morass of feudalism."

These are perhaps the outstanding conclusions he draws.

The rest of the book is a multi-layered sandwich in which Lacerda in successive chapters lays bare the impact of a conquering white culture upon a proud brown people—in their work, their schools, their beliefs.

He has some scathing statistics on American army carpetbaggers, (they cost the U. S. treasury $8,000,000 a month for a year), white exporters and importers who hope to reap a quick profit from Japan's misery, and native play-with-the-gang - in - power boys who are still doing business at the old stand. This despite the some 2,000 directives issued by the Allies to force the Japanese house into order.

Gives Both Sides

Lacerda is careful to give both sides of the story and makes it clear democracy—and other western ways—will have hard going in Japan. He points out that 90,000 unmarried Japanese women have had babies in the first year of American occupation—and that Jap war veterans don't like it. He doesn't say how the girls feel.

Some of his most newsworthy revelations deal with the conflicts between Russian and American officers in Tokyo. He presents perhaps the soundest appraisal yet of MacArthur, a great brave man but also one who is "highly sensitive and egotistical" and who "cannot stand criticism."

He gives a heartening portrayal of how American reporters have fought to get their stories past MacArthur's over-eager press underlings, a batch of gossipy stories of how correspondents play and work, and an indictment of Japanese newsmen who he feels abuse a victor-given freedom they never had in wartime:

"They write to incite, and their handwriting is purposely blurred."

Lacerda makes no such error. He has no illusions about either Americans or Japanese. He tells how Japan is with the objectivity of a scientist looking through an unprejudiced microscope.

And the pronoun "I" isn't bent on his typewriter.

The book, his second on Japan, is dedicated to his wife "who waited" and to Robert McLean and Dwight S. Perrin, publisher and managing editor of his newspaper, who assigned him to Japan.

CAN SHE PROVE HIS CITIZENSHIP? Morton Revon Wallen of Newark, who was born in mid-Atlantic and is unable to prove his citizenship, finally has come to the end of his search for his nursery mate. She is Mrs. Susan Firestone, left, of Brooklyn, and through her, Wallen hopes to establish his citizenship.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

MISSED PARADE

Editor of The Star: I am writing to you in regard to the Armistice day parade which I just missed, along with the rest of the business men, or I should say employes, along West Center street past Orchard street.

Did it ever occur to you that we West Siders pay taxes and participated in the war as well as the people along Church street and Center street east of Orchard?

I am not moaning just for myself but for all the rest of the business men in Marion who are being left out in the cold.

There is one thing for sure, they never miss us when there is a Community Fund drive or anything else when it comes to donating for the betterment of Marion.

There are really some pretty good fellows out here in the West Side, so why not give them a break and let them in on some of the good stuff too.

Who's Afraid?

WAGE earners have no reason to fear an era of moderation in Washington. The Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats who now have uncontested control of congress are not going to do anything to hurt the economic welfare of wage earners.

Yet wage earners are being told and will be told with increasing emphasis that the legislative branch of their government has passed into the hands of persons who intend to do harm to working people. They will be told that congress now is in the hands of reactionaries and worse.

The CIO which has spent a small fortune smearing Senator Robert A. Taft because it spotted him years ago as the lawmaker most likely to see through its own legislative game, now will smear all lawmakers who show interest in modifying labor laws.

Other labor unions will be invited to join the CIO in its campaign to make it appear that every lawmaker who even hints that labor laws might be improved is by that token an enemy of working men and women. This kind of smearing has been practiced shrewdly for many years. It is a technique of the labor leadership raised to power by the New Deal.

It has nothing to do with the economic welfare of wage earners. It has everything to do with the political and economic fate of union leaders—the handful of wilful men who have gained arbitrary power intolerable in a society of equity among all its members. These men are fighting for their power, as all men who gain arbitrary power fight for it when they are challenged. They know that their abuses of power have alarmed the American people. They know they are on the defensive. They know that the condition of unbalance they have brought about is about to be corrected because the majority of the electorate is turning against them. Unless they can muddy the waters by stirring up prejudice, they are through.

The issue they have raised will reach a showdown in the new congress. It almost reached a showdown in the old congress, whose attempt to wipe out inequalities in labor legislation was blocked by a president who finally, on the occasion of a railroad strike, became so alarmed by the arrogancy of one union leader that he foolishly proposed military law as a correction.

A handful of men nominally representing a minority of wage earners belonging to labor unions will try to persuade all wage earners that union executives should be immune to any correction of the nation's statutory law. Their means of persuasion will be claims that the welfare of wage earners will be undermined if equity is restored to the laws governing relations between workers and the sources of their employment. These claims are already familiar. They were pressed hard in the recent campaign and rejected by a majority of the voters. They will be pressed even harder in the months immediately ahead. They must be heard and disposed of by popular opinion and by members of the new congress for what they are—the desperate arguments of men who are fighting to retain arbitrary power whose abuse has roused public opinion to demand correction.

The Victim Died

A DEATH resulting from political bitterness in New York City on election day this year seems certain to have far-reaching effect.

For the first time in nearly 40 years, an election day assault in the metropolis had fatal effect. The victim was Joseph Scottoriggio, a Republican precinct captain in the 18th congressional district, where Vito Marcantonio made a successful bid for reelection as the candidate of the American Labor and Democratic parties. Scottoriggio was set upon by several men early in the morning of election day while distributing political pamphlets for his party and died of the effects of the assault last Monday. Governor Dewey, the district attorney, and the police commissioner all have made strong statements of intent to find and punish his assailants. Electioneering in the 18th district had reflected the extremism of Representative Marcantonio, the only radical of national repute to win reelection to congress. He was backed aggressively by the Political Action Committee and is a special favorite of the CIO. While disclaiming any personal knowledge of the assault, Marcantonio and his backers are on the defensive. One more assault might have been overlooked, but this time the victim died.

New Republican Powers

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Will Have Control Over Purse, Laws, Investigations.

CONTROL of both houses of congress will give to Republicans three great constitutional powers which they have not held for 16 years. The first is control of the purse. The second is the power to prepare legislation for consideration of the president. The third is a fairly unrestricted authority to investigate. Of these, the most important is control of the purse.

The president's budget will now become merely a series of proposals, without real authority for the first time in 14 years. It no longer will have the status of a national financial program. It will merely be a correlation of the many requests of many executive departments. The real budget, which will take final form in appropriations and tax legislation, must be made in congress.

The principle behind the executive budget is excellent. Under the Wilson administration, a number of experts set up a plan for a presidential budget, with the established practices of the British government and of several American states and cities as models. The first budget bill was vetoed by President Wilson because of a constitutional objection. The act now operative was passed in 1921 and, under General Charles G. Dawes as director of the system, it got an imposing and effective start in the first year of the Harding administration.

Dawes Plan Sound.

The principles laid down by General Dawes were sound and practical. As he interpreted his power and as he was sustained by President Warren G. Harding, he was only nominally an officer of the treasury department. His real authority came from the president and, in the role of the president's agent, he was able to "talk turkey" to cabinet members and all others seeking appropriations. He was, in effect, a chancellor of the exchequer. Unfortunately, there has never since been a budget director with the force, vision and authority enjoyed for a short year by General Dawes.

Under President Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau, the budget director was, after the short tenure of Lewis Douglas, cabined and confined under the treasury. Gradually, the power-seeking secretary of the treasury reduced the budget director to little more than a treasury clerk. Secretary Morgenthau became the real director of the budget. The vision of those who set up the plans for a budget system was ignored, and an important institution was smothered in childhood.

Starts in January.

And so the making of next year's budget must really begin after the president submits his budget in January. Fortunately, under the La Follette-Monroney reorganization act, congress will be vastly better equipped for the task than ever before. There will be provision for expert services. And the new heads of the big fiscal committees will be experienced legislators.

We have never attained the simplicity and responsibility of the British budget system upon which ours was patterned. Under the bi-party system which will now prevail, the difference will be still more apparent. With a sizable Republican majority in the house, it is not likely that any measure proposed by house committees can be upset on the floor. The course taken by the senate will not be quite so certain, for time will show that several of the new Republican senators will be difficult to control. Moreover, the majorities are not great enough to override the president's veto. The rule will be compromise and conservation—a cut here and a cut there.

But even under these conditions, a balanced budget is quite attainable, unless further foreign troubles make for greater military spending and unless a rush for tax reductions cuts federal income below the danger mark. These contingencies will severely test Republican statesmanship.

They Didn't Realize This Nickel's Worth

Interest continues to mount in the case of the $100-a-week New York cashier arrested in Miami with $750,000 of his company's on charges of having gone south money.

Among other things, rural residents are evaluating anew their city cousins, for whose milking ability they have previously held but little regard.

Full details of the embezzler's bookkeeping methods are as yet unrevealed. If he used the single-entry system, he'll feel right at home in the institution to which he'll probably be sent.

His malefactions had been going on for nearly a year before they were discovered. In times like these, who has time to check the petty cash?

His employers had heard rumors, of course, of the cashier owning a yacht. But, being trusting souls, they naturally assumed he had acquired it with soap wrappers.

A heated court fight seems in the offing . . . between the DA who wants to send him up and stockholders who want him released to take over operation of the company.

Challenge of Bilbo Proper

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE new Republican majority will challenge the right of Bilbo to a seat in the senate. They could not, as they take over, make a better first use of the power entrusted to them. This man has long been, as Senator Taft once said, "a disgrace to the senate," and the Republicans will be protecting American freedom, the integrity of representative government, and the good name of the United States, by exercising their constitutional right to declare that he is not qualified to be a member of the senate.

The Republican majority in the house will at the same time, we may assume, strip Representative Rankin of the tyrannical power which he has usurped, and put an end to this man's lawless, subversive, and outrageous attacks on the constitutional Liberties of the American people.

The cleansing of the congress will dispose of the notion that the Republican party is a collecting station for the crackpots, fanatics, adventurers, and racketeers who, having wrapped themselves in the American flag, deny every principle which that flag stands for in this country and in the world.

Republican Heritage

The heritage of the Republican party descends from Washington through Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt, and to decontaminate this proud tradition is the greatest service that can be done immediately for that party.

For the American people are much more than their stomachs and their pocketbooks, and no party can win their confidence, and hold it, which does not cherish the American cause and does not speak to their souls.

The revival of the Republican party will, if it is successful, produce quite different results than many today anticipate. For more than thirty years, ever since the political disaster of 1910, the traditional roles of the two parties have been reversed. The Republicans, who had from Washington and Hamilton through Lincoln to Theodore Roosevelt been the federal party, the advocates of a strong government acting positively, became in our generation the advocates of an isolationist and negative conduct of government.

The Democrats, by tradition anti-federalist and laissez-faire, became under Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt a federalist party prepared to recognize that the United States is a world power.

This reversal of roles is not necessarily final. It was in a sense an accident that the Democratic party was in power during the two world wars. Had the Republicans been in power, they would certainly have defended the vital interests of the country as strongly as did the Democrats. For the Republican tradition is not more isolationist than the Democratic, and men like Mr. Stimson, Mr. Austin, and Mr. John Foster Dulles are not exceptions but are in the main line of Republicanism.

Nor is it true that the Republican party is in principle or by fixed habit a negative party of laissez-faire and let her rip. The best and oldest Republican doctrine has been since the days of Hamilton that the federal government has positive functions to perform in promoting the prosperity and maintaining the stability of the national economy.

Free Enterprise

The system of free enterprise has never meant, except to those who ignorantly or for selfish reasons misunderstood it, a general license to private interests in the presence of a helpful national government. This view is not Republicanism but a kind of nihilism, which would have horrified Alexander Hamilton or Theodore Roosevelt. For a free economy is not a natural order of things which would flourish if government disappeared or were reduced to impotence. On the contrary, it is necessary to have strong government and firm laws and a continual and progressive program of public action to establish a free economy and make it work.

It could happen, of course, that the Republicans, as they come into power, will be unable to return to their best traditions and their real principles, that they will be stuck with the ideas and prejudices of their recent past. But this need not happen, and moreover, it will not happen if, as seems not unlikely now, the abler men of the new generation join the Republican party.

Their predecessors joined the Democratic party in 1932, and this was the reason above all others why the Democratic party, in spite of its inner contradictions and confusions, was for so long the instrument of national action.

The natural place for the abler men of the new generation to go is at this time into the Republican party. If the doors are opened to them, they will go there, and the Republican party will be for the next period of time the instrument of national action.

Skies Clearer in Germany

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Even at the risk of sounding like Pollyanna, it must be stated that there is more good news. It was previously disclosed in this space that Marshal Sokolowski, Soviet commander in Germany, had begun informal discussions of a German settlement with Lieut. General Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor of the American zone. As the German problem is the key problem in Europe, that in itself was deeply encouraging. More encouraging still, it can now be added that the Soviets seem to be genuinely willing to concede the major American political objectives in Germany.

That implies relinquishment of the Soviet effort to transform all of Germany into a westward extension of the Russian system. It means relaxation of the iron grip in which the Soviets have held their own zone of Germany since the surrender. And if it is all not too good to be true, it may add up further to what the whole world has been hoping for—a basic, if perhaps temporary, change in the Soviet imperialist policy. One must cross one's fingers. But one must also note that the most hopeful of all developments is probably in prospect. The Soviets are reported ready to make heavy reductions in their immense German occupying force.

In his talks with Clay, Sokolowski has indicated willingness to abandon the present rigid division of Germany into four zones. Instead, he has seemed ready to accept a new system roughly comparable to that which now prevails in the city of Berlin. Berlin is jointly ruled by the Allies through a democratically elected German government, although the city's American, British, Soviet and French sectors are each policed by the troops of its own occupying power.

Results of Agreement.

If the very tentative and incomplete understanding between Clay and Sokolowski is ever transformed into a formal agreement, zonal barriers will be lowered, as the barriers have been lowered between the Berlin sectors. All political parties will be permitted to exist in all zones, and the Soviets will suspend their present prohibition against the Socialists. Democratic elections will be held in all zones, supervised by representatives of all four occupying powers to insure against pressure tactics. Occupying forces of all powers will be drastically and proportionally reduced. And the Germans will be ruled by a government of their own free choosing, in conformity with directives emanating from the Allied Control Council, just as the Berliners are now ruled by their Magistrat and the Allied Kommandatura.

In short, dismembered Germany will be politically unified, with due allowance, of course, for the federal principle which all agree should be incorporated in the new German constitution. Political unity will nautrally go hand in hand with economic unity, which was the first American objective. And here again, the Soviets seem to be willing to make substantial concessions. The Soviet government, for example, has indulged in carpet-bagging on a large scale, selling its subordinate commissariats large interests in basic German industries. As part of the agreement on economic unification, however, it is believed that the Soviets can be induced to divest themselves of these easy and not too praiseworthy gains. Indeed, it is even believed that they will also revise their land reform system, eliminating the political features which give the Communist chieftains of the farm cooperatives an unbreakable hold on the peasantry.

Concessions.

There is no space here to describe in technical detail all the concessions which have been offered. The foregoing will give a general idea of their far-reaching, almost sweeping character. The Soviets' political stooges were heavily defeated in the recent Berlin election. They suffered near defeats in the elections in the Soviet zone. It seems assured, therefore, that institution of the political reforms alone will break the Soviet grip on Eastern Germany. Thus the struggle for Germany may come to an end.

The price of all this, it must be noted, will be pretty high. As stated in the previous report in this space, the Soviets want substantial reparations from current Germany production in exchange for their other concessions. The state of the Soviet economy is almost desperate. They urgently need German goods. They are asking $10,000,000,000 of reparations, of which perhaps $6,000,000,000 would be credited against capital reparations already taken and the cession of part of East Prussia to Russia. To pay the balance from current German production over a term of ten years or so would require a great increase in the German level of industry. It would also require provision of Soviet raw materials to be turned into finished goods in German factories. It would be a difficult business.

Furthermore, there can still be many a slip between the cup of peace and the lips of the unquiet, thirsty world. Neither Clay nor Sokolowski has been authorized to make a deal. Clay personally believes in purchasing a German settlement with reparations. He is joined in this by Ambassador Robert Murphy, with whom he is now working closely. But Clay and Murphy have yet to hear the views of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, and they have already encountered opposition from the eminent oil man, statesman and presidential crony, Ed Pauley. Equally whatever Sokolowski says will certainly have to be bargained out all over again, inch by inch, with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. And while the British may be expected to go along, someone will have to take a bludgeon to the French. It is early

The Forgotten Man

I AM the forgotten man
And there are times when I regret being remembered
They tell me I was neglected . .
That I was lost in the shuffle . .
That I was behind the eight-ball. .
A sort of little orphan annie . .
And maybe they were right . .
But answer me this . . .
Where am I now,
After all the rescue work?

* * *

Away back, when I was forgotten, I got meat . .
I could find a place to live.
If the roof caved in, I could find a roofer who would show interest .
If the kitchen sink pipes burst, the plumber would answer his telephone .
If the lights went out, I knew an electrician who could be bothered . . .

When I was the forgotten man I had butter. .
The egg and I were friends . . .
Milk wasn't in the upper brackets. .
I could always afford fish . .
And sugar was no major worry.

Before they remembered me,
There were sometimes sheets for the bed . . .
The laundry-man called and delivered . . .
I didn't live doubled up with relatives,
Or in the neighbor's garage . . .
If the porch fell apart,
I could always get a couple of boards
And a few nails.

Back when I was still forgotten,
The grocer had one or two things I could afford . . .
I could always find a five cent cigar . . .
Cigarettes were not a luxury item . . .
There was such a thing as five cent glass of beer . . .
Cocktails were two for a quarter . . .
The bartender had a conscience . . .
The proprietor didn't water the stuff . . .
And a quart wasn't a fifth.

I am the forgotten man well remembered . . .
But the rescue squad hit me with an oar . . .
It wasn't so bad back there . . .
Shirts and shoes were within reason . . .
Socks were two bits a pair . . .
A guy could get a hat for two dollars . . .
A vest didn't cost as much as a coat . . .
And I was always sure I owned my pants outright.

Fun Runs

By TRUMAN TWILL

Being freshly needled by a news picture of the first planeload of pleasure-seekers to make the twilight-to-dawn fun run from Miami to Havana, we can hardly wait for this newest triumph of the American way of life to spread out.

The Miami-Havana trip takes an hour and a-half each way. When the passengers have had their fill of Cuban food, drink and whatnot, they come back aboard and are delivered home in time for another day's hard sleeping.

This is only the beginning of day-to-day pleasure away from home without packing an overnight bag. It all depends on how far an airplane can go and return between sunset and sunrise, or vice versa. And rockets are just over the horizon.

Fun runs always have been tied to the speed factor. Originally, a pleasure seeker could do his seeking only as far away from home base as his own two legs could carry him. It wasn't enough. So men invented the horse.

The horse, however, took too much fun out of the run, which led to invention of the horse and buggy. Funsters then could sit down going and coming and snooze with the reins wrapped around the whipsocket.

It also led to inventing the bicycle, which was less costly than a horse and buggy and didn't eat any oats between runs. About the same time, men began to invent trains so they could seek pleasure farther afield, with the train crew doing the worrying.

Then they invented the automobile, which could go as fast as trains and cover the territory off the main line. This was a great break for purveyors of fun who lived on back roads. The automobile came to stay when it dawned on its users that fun now was where they found it.

The airplane, invented a generation ago and taken over promptly by militarists, finally has come into its own, too. It has been taken to the eager bosoms of the funsters, the people who make or break all new methods of conveyance.

The airplane was only so-so while it was used by businessmen and humans with serious purposes, but with pleasure-seekers taking it to their bosoms, nothing can stop it. The ice was broken when they started a New York-to-Reno plane trip for gay divorcees, but the Miami-to-Havana run's the big plunge.

Men who run airlines are no fools. They've been around. Horses and buggies, bicycles, trains, automobiles, even boats—no dice for any of them until the customers used them for pleasure. We look forward to flying out to Honolulu for a piece of poi. We expect to go to the Arctic for a snowball fight. We are going to cash in our War Bonds and buy airplane stock. The Wright brothers finally have become real benefactors. The most fun-loving nation on earth is getting its feet off the ground. Set 'em up in the other runway, Mac, and let 'er rip!

A SOUND THEORY!

MARION CEMETERY has developed from a modest pioneer cemetery on the theory that a cemetery should be beautiful, with an atmosphere of cheer and peacefulness; in reality a bright lovely garden that reminds one of happier days and blots out life's darker hours. Family burial lots are available at a very modest cost

JEFFERSONIAN TRAIN DERAILED AT NEWARK

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., Nov. 16—Traffic was normal today after five cars and the engine of the Pennsylvania Railroad's passenger train the Jeffersonian were derailed in the downtown section. No one was injured.

Cause of the derailment was not determined, railroad officials reported. The mishap occurred last night around 10:30 when the coal tender overturned.

Eastbound from St. Louis to New York, the train ran through a switch at the South Six street overpass. Coal from the spilled tender poured to the road beneath the tracks, damaging the automobile of Robert Livingston who was uninjured.

Traffic was delayed about two hours and no trains were rerouted, the line's Pittsburgh office said.

Weddings

Of interest here is the wedding of Miss Virginia M. Dickison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla E. Dickison of Mt. Vernon and John M. Ashton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ashton also of Mt. Vernon, which took place Sunday evening in the chapel at Mt. Vernon Academy, Seventh Day Adventist church, in that city. Baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, greenery and lighted tapers held in two seven-branch candelabra, decorated the altar for the ceremony read at 7 o'clock by Elder N. S. Ashton of Washington, D. C., uncle of the bridegroom. A half-hour program of nuptial music was by Mrs. Maud M. Wolfe, organist, Mrs. S. G. Northcott of Mt. Vernon and Russell Miller of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The bride and bridegroom wore matching suits of military blue wool gabardine. Completing the bride's costume were black accessories and she wore a white orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Prosser of Austin, Minn., were the attendants. Mrs. Prosser, cousin of the bridegroom, wore a red wool dress with matching hat and black accessories. Her flowers were yellow pompons. Mr. Dickison gave his daughter in marriage. Seating the guests were John Loveridge, Robert Burdette and Bernard Frost of Mt. Vernon and George McNulty of Canton.

The bride's mother was costumed in a fuchsia crepe dress with black accessories and the bridegroom's mother chose a wine colored costume with black accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickison were hosts at a reception for 140 guests at their home. The table held a wedding cake and was decorated with flowers. Presiding were Misses Betty and Bonnie Hansted of Clarksfield, cousins of the bridegroom, and Miss Imogene Workman and Miss Olive Loveridge. Upon their return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls the couple will make their home in Mt. Vernon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ashton were graduated from the Mt. Vernon academy. Mrs. Ashton is employed as a nurse's aide at the Mt. Vernon Hospital-Sanitarium and the bridegroom is associated in business with Ashton Bros., poultry dealers. He received his discharge from Army service in March this year after three years of service, a part of which was spent in the European theater with a medical division.

The bride's gifts to her attendant, soloist and organist were nylons and the bridegroom presented the best man and ushers with initialed gold tie clips.

Guests included the following from Marion: Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Hill, Miss Cora Hill, Dr. Maud Bull, Mrs. Harry Denman, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gilmore, Mrs. Nellie Winter, Mis Linda McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Newell and children and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Virgil Sellers.

The bride's family formerly lived in Marion and she attended Oakland Heights and Edison Junior High school.

CHICAGO—Some persons who are slightly near-sighted don't see well because they don't try.

Three doctors from Washington University at St. Louis performed experiments to determine whether "exercise" helped correct nearsightedness.

They reported to the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otalaryngology that 55 per cent of the 54 persons tested showed no improvement.

But among those who showed some improvement, the doctors found that the greatest change occurred in those with only slight myopia.

By checking the refraction of their eyes, the doctors found that they should have had better vision in the first place and that the improvement apparently was due to "better visual effort" during the tests.

CLEVELAND VETERAN OFFICE CRIES FOR AID

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16 — The harassed veterans housing service appealed for help today in solving some of its strictly non-housing problems.

John J. Pokorny, who as director of the veterans information center is in charge of the housing agency, cites these as a few giving the service a headache:

1. Should it help a veteran who received a dishonorable discharge?

2. Are veterans of other wars eligible for help? One Spanish-American war soldier and a number from the First World War have been coming in.

3. How about ex-members of the Red Cross, merchant marine and similar organizations?

Pokorny says the answers just weren't put in the book when they set up the service.

"Personally, I think veterans of World War II should have preference over other veterans, but I have asked the city law department to clarify this," he explained

Coal Miners Like New Transportation

By The United Press

BROWNSVILLE, Pa. — Coal miners at the Vesta Mine are dragged home every night—but they like it.

Formerly, the weary miners trudged home at the end of the day along a rocky hill. It was tough going even when the road was in good condition and worse when wet.

But now the miners walk up the hill in style, thanks to a "skee-tow." The device is similar to those used at Sun Valley and other winter resorts to haul skiers to the top of the run.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 — Quite a scramble seems to be developing for leadership in this season's Hooper program preference poll. The latest checkup gives top spot to Jack Benny, sending him up from ninth position and replacing Fibber McGee and Molly.

Bob Hope moved into second, shoving McCarthy to third; Fred Allen, fifth last time, advanced to fourth, while Fibber landed in fifth.

Bing Crosby, whose 24 per cent in the first report after the start of his new ABC recorded show gave him fourth, did not appear among the first 15. His rating had gone down to 12.2. However, ABC said that for this week's broadcast a special checkup showed he had recovered somewhat to 15.8.

Lions Rush Carnival Plans To Continue Sight Program

Plans are well underway for the annual bazaar which will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, Nov. 20-22, in The Star auditorium under the sponsorship of the Marion Lions club. Members of the Lioness will assist with the various booths and concessions.

Patterned after a carnival, the bazaar is held each year by the club to raise money to carry on their all important project, that of sight conservation and blind work. The entire proceeds will go for the benefit of the project.

Entertainment will include games, amusements of all kinds, and several door prizes each night. The Lioness members will be in charge of several food concessions, and will have a cake booth. Prizes which will be offered at the various concessions will include merchandise, some purchased and some donated by Marion merchants. Advance tickets are being sold and are available from any member of the Lions club. The doors will open each night at 7:30.

The bazaar has been held each year by the Lions club since it was established, except for two or three years during the war when it was discontinued. The club revived the affair last year.

Extension Program

Work done in the past by the club in the sight conservation and blind work project has included the white cane program, one of its first projects, which includes the purchase of white canes, also the rehabilitation of the blind, in which they have set up some in self supporting businesses, and furnished typewriters, to get them on an independent basis. In one case, the club purchased piano tuning tools and equipment which would enable the man to have a business of his own. Members also had a white cane ordinance passed by city council.

Other work done in connection with the project includes the purchase of glasses for charity cases, the purchase of an electric eye testing chart for each school in the city, the purchase of a Betts-Telebinocular eye testing device which was used in the school survey conducted by the club last year, purchase of artificial eyes for those unable to obtain them, the supplying of Braille magazines for those who can read them, and various other things needed for the work.

The club conducted a survey in all the schools last year in which over 4,000 pupils were tested for eye defects. Those who were unable to purchase the glasses needed were aided by the club.

Continuous Program

Work in the program is carried on continually by the club and they check on cases as they are reported. They are planning in the future to also help in the correction of cross eyes. James Lytle is chairman of the sight conservation committee.

On display at the bazaar will be some of the various equipment which the club has provided for the schools including the Betts-Telebinocular instrument, eye charts and white canes. Also, on Monday night the club will present a 15-minute roundtable discussion over Station WMRN on the work which they do. The program will be entitled "Community Service Program of the Marion Lions club" and will be heard at 7 p. m. Those taking part will be Edward Ruzzo, the first president of the club; Walter Moore, the third president; Cecil Gabler, and a moderator from the station.

INDUSTRY WARNED IT MAY PRICE SELF OUT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16 — A warning that American industry could "price itself right out of a market" comes from John L. McCaffrey, president of the International Harvester Co.

Here to inspect the company's branch office Saturday, the Chicago industrialist declared:

"Rising prices are the greatest threat to business in the country today. If business knows what's good for it, it will keep increases to a minimum."

Reporting his company had increased its prices 19 per cent since 1941 despite increases of 60 per cent for labor and 15 per cent for materials, he added:

"I know we're not making money that way but we're keeping prices down to where people can pay them and when we get into greater production, we'll make out all right."

After McCaffrey's visit, H. L. Mallender, branch manager here, announced that a $500,000 branch office, warehouse and service building would be built here, with construction scheduled to start next week.

CIO

are further to the "left" than others.

The prime purpose of this committee is to seek an agreement that would reduce energy-wasting fighting over ideologies and present a united CIO front in the coming wage disputes with industrialists.

Whether such a mixed group of men could succeed in negotiating harmony was unknown.

Takes Action

Meantime, the CIO yesterday took action to control any left wing activities in its state and city councils, and CIO leaders today faced next week's CIO convention with one hurdle behind them.

1. They had assurance that at least one trouble spot was smoothed over and disposed of.

2. They were convinced that Philip Murray now intends to remain president despite rumors to the contrary.

Murray himself sponsored yesterday's action by the CIO executive board. New rules were adopted requiring the 286 city and state councils to "confine their activities and statements to issues of local and state concern and to matters of general policy that have been passed upon by the national CIO."

Murray said to reporters that "strangers" using "destructive propaganda" have often moved into these councils.

Can Institute Proceedings

From now on, the CIO president has authority to institute proceedings against a council or any of its officers.

Murray announced that the action was by unanimous vote. The board has 51 members and nearly all of them were present, and this unanimity means that bitterly-feuding political factions have composed their differences for the sake of a united CIO front at a time of grave economic problems.

It means, too, that the argument over city and state councils—a sore spot—is not likely to flare on the floor of the convention which starts Monday. The executive board's action was final.

Murray, in a news conference, smilingly refused to confirm the well understood fact that the action was aimed at alleged left wing activities in some of the bigger cities. Nor would he name the cities which had especially worried him.

FROGS JUST TOO MUCH

Assistant Threatens To Quit When Croakers Invade Library

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 — A Columbia university assistant librarian has threatened to quit. The reason: frogs.

For the past two weeks the university's psychology library has been invaded by the croakers who had apparently escaped through an open pipe from the zoology department on the floor above.

The last straw for the assistant librarian came when she reached for a book on "Experimental Psychology" and a frog leaped at her.

BRITISH SHOWDOWN DUE

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 16—Labor party rebels opposing the so-called "Bevinite" foreign policy today prepared for a house of commons showdown Monday which could result in their expulsion from Britain's ruling party, as their move won carefully qualified backing from the influential London Times.

IN HOSPITAL AGAIN. Forest (Nubbins) Hoffman, five-year-old "early Christmas" boy of Cheyenne, Wyo., looks ruefully from his hospital bed on one of his visits for a periodic checkup at the treatment of a slight cold in Denver, Colo. Two years ago his life was despaired of and sympathetic people over the nation showered him with gifts at an early Christmas party.

SENATE G.O.P. WORKS ON LEGISLATIVE PLAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—Having settled at least temporarily their leadership setup, senate Republicans went to work today on a long list of legislative proposals which selected committees will study before a party conference Dec. 30.

Senator White of Maine apparently was agreed upon as majority floor leader in a move expected to bring the elevation of Senator Millikin of Colorado to the position of party conference chairman.

Vacating that chairmanship, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan is expected to become presiding officer of the senate and chairman of its foreign relations committee. Senator Taft of Ohio is to retain his powerful position as chairman of the steering, or policy-making group.

A patronage committee headed by Senator Bridges of New Hampshire reportedly decided yesterday that Carl A. Loeffler, who has been secretary of the minority, will be secretary of the senate, succeeding Leslie L. Biffle. Under this plan, J. Mark Trice, now an assistant, will succeed Wall Doxey as the senate's sergeant at arms.

With senators lining up their own versions of bills to be presented at the opening of congress, Rep. Joseph Martin (Mass) told reporters the public can look for speedy action in the new house. Martin is slated to become speaker.

Luckless Hunter Gets Bird from His Wife

By The Associated Press

AURORA, Ill., Nov. 16—A. L. Pewonka, returning from a hunting trip without a pheasant, was greeted by his wife who was waiting to give the bird she got without firing a short or leaving her backyard.

Mrs. Pewonka explained to the empty-handed hunter that she found the pheasant in the backyard. She said the bird apparently had fallen there after being fatally wounded by a hunter in a nearby cornfield.

Pioneer in Electricity Dies After Long Illness

By The Associated Press

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 16—Jonathan Parker B. Fiske, 81, a pioneer and inventor in the field of electricity, brick manufacturing and oil burners, died at his home late last night after a long period of semi-invalidism.

Fiske, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, began his career as an inventor while with the General Electric Co. in its infancy. Later he patented several labor saving devices in making bricks and developed the first rough textured brick.

FRAU GOERING COLLECTS

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Nov. 16—Mrs. Hermann Goering today collected her late husband's effects—clothing and 750 marks ($75)—but was not permitted to collect the 50,000 marks found on Goering when he was arrested. That money is regarded as confiscated Nazi property, pending a ruling on its eventual disposition, American authorities said.

Wandering Bond Returned to GI

By The United Press

SHARON, Pa.—S/Sgt. Arthur J. Doddato has an unusual souvenior of World War II. It is a $100 United States defense bond which he left behind when the Japanese attacked the Philippine Islands.

The bond was found by an American serviceman on a Pacific island after V-J Day—presumably carried there by a Japanese soldier. The bond was returned by mail to Doddato after more than four years.

Ether first was used in a surgical operation in 1842 by Dr. Crawford Williamson Long.

"Mrs. America" To Keep Crown If She Can Have Own Way

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16—Mrs. America, the queen of American housewives, has exercised for a second time a woman's prerogative to change her mind, and may not abdicate her title after all.

It all depends on whether sponsors of the Jackson, Miss. contest, where she won the title and a $2,000 cash prize Wednesday night, agree to alter their post-contest plans for Mrs. America to suit the winner, pretty 24-year-old Mrs. Janice Pollock—and her husband.

Those post-contest plans included a six-month tour of the country, and the brunette beauty and her husband, Marion S. Pollock, announced Thursday night she was giving up the title rather than make the trip and absent herself for six months from her four children, oldest of whom is six.

Bert Titcomb, contest manager who flew here from Jackson yesterday to persuade the Pollocks to reconsider, said he would announce at Jackson today whether or not a compromise plan to let Mrs. Pollock keep the beauty crown and the cash would be approved.

Nazi Partisans Growing Scarce in British Area

By The Associated Press

HERFORD, Germany—Of some 22,000,000 Germans in the British Zone, less than 750,000 will be disqualified from voting because of Nazi activities or associations.

Occupation authorities assert, however, that a larger number—the exact figure not yet decided—will be barred from standing as candidates.

The British say this autumn's local elections will be the first in 13 years in which the Germans of the area have had a chance to cast an unfettered ballot.

Although the elections will be under British control, the mechanical operation of the balloting will be entrusted largely to Germans.

Germans consulted on the elections have shown greatest interest in achieving an absolutely secret ballot. One Briton said "bitter experience" had taught them to fight shy of any system whereby a ballot could be identified as having been cast by any particular voter.

The United Kingdom system of numbering ballots consecutively on the back was unsatisfactory to the Germans. They offered an alternative plan and British officials accepted it.

The British are looking forward to the elections as a weathervane of German thinking. They want to see whether the voice of the people is strong enough to influence party platforms or whether party discipline will be strong enough to pull waverers into line.

Here Mission to India Outlasts the Japanese

By The United Press

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—Missionary Elda Amstutz has begun a return trip for the second time to India and her work.

The previous time she started out, the Japanese interrupted her trip in the Philippines and clamped her into a prison camp for two years.

Miss Amstutz was held a prisoner near Manila and was rescued by parachute troops just a day before her scheduled execution.

She came back to Fort Wayne to lecture at her alma mater, the Fort Wayne Bible Institute.

Her station is a mission home for widows and orphans in Kedgaon in the Poona district of India.

As a result of World War II, the U. S. has more shipbuilding capacity than all the rest of the world.

NEW STORM SWEEPS ALONG ROCKIES AREA

By The Associated Press

DENVER, Nov. 16—A new storm swept south along the Rockies today, blanketing Montana and Wyoming with snow and hampering rescue efforts in eastern Colorado where many families still are marooned and much livestock is weakened by two weeks without food.

The weather bureau said the snow would be light, but predicted the strong winds that would drift the snow already on the ground, and low temperatures which cattlemen said would cause heavy livestock losses. The storm centered along the eastern slope of the mountains.

It followed the third storm to strike Colorado within two weeks, bringing death to 12 persons.

Snow and wind originating from a cold air mass that came out of the west, gave the blizzard-swept plains another lashing yesterday, wiping out the gains made at clearing roads and virtually halting Red Cross-Army operations from Rush 40 miles east of Colorado Springs.

BILBO'S CONDITION MAY KEEP HIM HOME

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—Republican moves to challenge Senator Theodore G. Bilbo (D-Miss) at the door of the senate Jan. 3 may go for naught. His physical condition may prevent his appearance.

This was learned today from an associate of Bilbo as the senate campaign investigating committee assembled to study complaints that the Mississippian tried to intimidate Negroes from voting in last summer's Democratic primary. Bilbo won election to a third term in the contest.

A Democratic member of the committee conceded in advance that an open hearing in Bilbo's home state is all but certain. He said the Republicans seem "hell-bent for a hearing" and that the charges may as well be aired.

Bilbo, 69 year old, spent some time recently in a New Orleans hospital with a mouth ailment which was said to have resulted from friction of a denture. More recently, he was injured slightly in an automobile accident near his home at Poplarville, Miss.

A friend here said he had strong doubts that Bilbo would be present for the convening of the new senate.

British Submit Veto "Softener" Proposal

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 16—Individual members of the Big Five studied today a British plan aimed at softening the use of the veto in the United Nations security council after smashing small nation efforts to eliminate or modify the veto power.

The plan was submitted to the major powers by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin as a basis for Big Five consultations on the veto which authoritative sources said probably would begin Monday.

AVC Demands Quick Action in Housing

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—The American Veterans Committee and a group of state veterans affairs directors today demanded quick and drastic government action to step up the veterans housing program.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., housing chairman of the AVC, asked President Truman to "make the RFC quit quibbling" over whether it should lend $90,000,000 to would-be home prefabricators.

Mackenzie Says John Bull Has Own Fish To Fry

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

DewittMackenzie

The campaign of left-wingers in the British house of commons to force the Socialist government to dissociate its foreign policy from that of the United States, so as to avoid what they describe as an "inevitable conflict" between Russia and America, gives interesting emphasis to the metamorphosis which John Bull's empire is undergoing.

This rebellion apparently received a fillip from the announcement in the king's speech from the throne at the opening of parliament last Tuesday that conscription for the armed forces would be continued—this being the first peace-time military conscription in Britain's history. Prime Minister Attlee gave point to this in his statement that developments of modern weapons made England especially vulnerable to attack. He said the country was now a part of the European continent and "we must have trained reserves who can take their part straight away without waiting six months for training."

That's plain talk. It means that as things now stand there is danger Europe may be heading into another war. Further conflict is not inevitable, but it's a possibility. Mr. Attlee is playing the part of a wise man in seeing that his country is prepared for contingencies.

And the prime minister has given no indication that he thinks the dangers of another war rest in the relations between Russia and America. Europe is as full of peace-traps as a hedgehog is of quills. Attlee is too well informed to agree with the amazing statement by one Socialist member of parliament that the United States was the only nation in the world where some "ordinary people wanted war," and that America was inflamed with "war fever." Just in passing one might remark that this sounds very much like the language we have been hearing from another great European capital recently.

Strange Ideas Prevail

Of course strange ideas about America still prevail in some quarters of the British isles. I've even encountered people who believed that savage Indians still roam the plains close to Chicago. However, the average Briton is better informed about the U. S. A than that. And he knows that we don't want war with anybody, though we hope he will give us credit of being able to put up a fight if it is necessary.

So far as John Bull is concerned, his position is such that it's good to have a friend—meaning America—but his policy of preparedness and his foreign relations aren't inspired by any "war fever" in the United States. His policies arise from two pressing personal situations: (1) the post-war realignment of the European spheres of influence has created a definite threat to peace; (2) the British empire itself is undergoing a mighty change which involves an alteration in political relationships and an upheaval in its global defenses.

Shifts Life Line

There is Britain's recent momentous recognition of the indefensibility of her Mediterranean life-line to the far east in any further world war. This involves the shifting of the weight of her imperial defenses from the eastern Mediterranean to a line through British West and East Africa—a tremendous undertaking. There will be other defensive adjustments in the Orient. And there are political changes—for one, the granting of independence to the vast sub-continent of India.

No, it isn't America's "war fever" that impels John Bull to keep his powder dry. He has troubles of his own and finds it very difficult to be on close terms with Uncle Sam.

Girl Says She Pushed Lame Boy Into River

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 16 — Firemen dragged the Blue river today for the body of an eight-year-old crippled boy after a 17-year-old girl told police she drowned him because he threw a dirty stone in her laundry.

Lt. Charles Welch of the homicide bureau said the girl was being held for investigation after making an oral statement last night and leading officers to a spot where she said she pushed him into the river.

She told police, Welch said, that she had lured a neighbor boy whom she identified as Ross Key Jr. to the river and shoved him into the water. The boy, who has been missing from his home since Nov. 4, had a speech impediment and limped as a result of infantile paralysis.

Navy To Keep Only 2 Battleships at Sea

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—The navy has decided two active battleships are enough for its peacetime fleet.

This vestige of the mighty wartime force of capital ships, the navy discloses, will consist of two 45,000-tonners—the Missouri, assigned to the Atlantic fleet, and the Iowa, in the Pacific.

Originally plans for the postwar fleet contemplated four active battleships, all 45,000-tonners, and two 35,000-ton vessels in the reserve fleet, ready for immediate use.

Lamb Prices Reach New Peak For Central Ohio at Ashley

The highest price ever paid for market lambs in this part of the state was reached Thursday at the Ashley Lamb Pool when the choice double blue lambs went for $27 per hundred pounds and the blue grade sold for $25 per hundred.

According to Forest Taylor, a veteran lamb buyer for Swift and Company for 31 years, it is the highest price ever paid by him in buying lambs for his firm. The red grade sold for $24.50 and yellow at $21.50. The double blue clipped lambs sold for $25.50, blue for $24.50, red for $21.50 and yellow for $18.00.

It was "open house" at the pool Thursday and fifty farmers were present in the afternoon for the grading demonstration. The program began at 1:30 p. m. when Jesse Foust, president of the Delaware-Morrow-Marion Sheep Improvement Association introduced L. K. Bear, sheep extension specialist, who discussed what the Ashley pool was trying to do. He stated that it was an attempt on the part of the farmers themselves to do a better job of feeding and management of sheep and then to market them according to the grade and degree of finish they secured.

Mr. Baer introduced Bob Rector, lamb grader for the Producers Cooperative Livestock Association, who demonstrated the difference in degree of finish that determines the grade of the lambs.

C. W. Hammans, extension marketing specialist, then compared the price that the better grade of lamb brought on the market to lambs in the lower grade and the profit a farmer received for feeding lambs to the higher grade. He stated that the number of lambs in the better grade was increasing over last year at the Ashley pool.

Over one thousand more sheep and lambs have been marketed through the Ashley pool this year than at the same time last year.

736 Sheep Consigned

A total of 730 sheep and lambs were consigned to the pool Thursday by 39 farmers in the tri-county area. Those consigning the double blue grade of lambs were: P. M. Young and Son, Ashley; Carl Mosher, Cardington and Wesley Coomer, Ashley.

Consignors having lambs in the blue grade were: Orris Lipp, Edison; Sam Rengert, Cardington; Carl Hough, Delaware; Fred Jones, Cardington; P. M. Young and Son, Ashley; Jack Showalter, Ashley; Carl Mosher, Cardington; Ellis Kenney, Centerburg; Wayne McCurdy, Ashley; Waldo Stevens, Ashley; Wesley Coomer, Ashley, and Richard Rebo, Ashley.

The next pool date is Dec. [illegible] and farmers desiring farm inspection service may call Henry Brandes of Ashley, secretary, or the Agricultural Extension Office in their own county.

Cincinnati Father Held In Slaying of His Son

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 16 — Alva Carter, 33, was shot fatally early today during a family quarrel at suburban St. Bernard and Detective Sgt. John Donnelly said the man's father, 62-year-old Wilbur Carter, was being held on a charge of murder.

The police sergeant said the shooting occurred at the conclusion of a beer party at the factory where the father was employed as a night watchman.

"My house can't stand it either," said a companion, George Young. "I'm having a tough time getting it built as it is. A strike would make it worse."

James Sherer said, "What with the cost of living is going up, there's nothing else for a working man to do but try to get more money."

He added, "They're talking about raising rents. I don't know where it will end."

A veteran worker at nearby Coverdale No. 8 probably expressed the feelings of his fellow workers most succinctly.

"Lewis is the boss. We'll do what he says regardless of our personal feelings—but it will be a tough Christmas."

times, the baby's crying may signify illness. Certain types of crying are so characterisitc of different types of distress that old-time physicians often relied on the character of the cry to aid them in making a diagnosis.

For example, they noted that the cry of a baby with pneumonia was suppressed and short. If the crying was loud and vigorous they knew that the baby did not have a lung disorder. Conditions affecting the meninges or lining membrane over the brain, caused a piercing, screaming cry. If the crying was interrupted and resumed after short pauses, it might be due to an excessive amount of gas in the stomach or bowel.

Of course, many other conditions might cause crying, such as blocking of the nasal passages, earache, hunger, wet diapers, chilling, overheating and, of course, a pin sticking the baby. All are agreed that a healthy, comfortable, and contented baby seldom cries. Therefore, if a baby cries too frequently, or if the mother cannot determine what is bothering the infant, the doctor should be consulted.

Attorney Relates Travel Experiences In Galion Meeting

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 6—Having their automobile fall off a ferry in a river in southern Brazil and narrowly escaping an earthquake in Chile, were only two of the many experiences of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Petri, who returned to Galion from a 20,000-mile trip by air, sea, motor and train, to South America, in four months.

Petri, who is a galion attorney, was speaker Thursday night at the monthly meeting of the Men's Brotherhood at Peace Lutheran parish house. His talk included South American experiences in his automobile, especially in Brazil and Peru. Besides having his car spilled off the ferry in a river in southern Brazil and successfully recovered, he and his wife almost lost the car at one time when they were driving along the Atlantic ocean in Brazil and the tide came in and they had to drive along the beach because there was no road.

Petri and his wife are home now without a car. Because of the maritime strike they had to leave it in Lima, Peru, and they flew home from Lima to Miami, Fla. In Chile, they arrived just after an earthquake which shook down several buildings.

In the four months in South America they visited eight different countries. On the trip, Petri made an independent study of Pan-American highways, about 10 per cent of which is improved.

GI Post Puts Out Call For Musical Talent

If hopes of a number of local ex-service men materialize, some new talent will appear on the musical horizon in Marion in the way of veterans' organizations in the near future, it was revealed today, when a call was issued for all service men interested in music to meet Tuesday night at the G. I. Post hall on East Center street.

"Interested in music means any one who wants to play an instrument in a band or orchestra, or possesses other musical ability," George Hildebrandt states. The interest shown by veterans on their visits to the post clubroom, where Mr. Hildebrandt is in charge, indicates they would like to have some kind of a musical organization or organizations, and some of the talent displayed is proof that the material is here, he adds.

The idea has "caught on" with quite a number of ex-service men and because of this the meeting, set for 8 p. m. Tuesday, has been arranged.

Injury-Riddled Locals Play Best Game of 1946 Season

By GEORGE ROEST

Hit by injuries and sickness, Marion Prexies fought a grim losing battle last night at Springfield against a strong club which was able to defeat them 28 to 12 mainly through the efforts of two amazing stellar backs, Jim Powers and Jack House. Approximately 6,000 were in attendance at the Springfield contest.

The game was played in connection with Springfield's Homecoming. Between the halves the Homecoming Queen and her attendants were introduced and Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, an alumnus of Springfield High school, gave a short speech.

The Prexies in closing their season demonstrated more power and determination than they had in any of their other games this season.

Their hopes of salvaging anything out of the game were dimmed when quarterback Jim Rea and Charlie Cline were victims of last minute sickness.

Seniors Deserve Credit

Special credit should be given to some of the senior members of the squad who in playing their last game for the Presidents, made the game a battle all the way. Mario Nolfi, Don Zeisler, and Jerry Richie turned in top performances as did Bob Ralston, Dick Gherman, and Clarence Smith. Also Jim Coss, who played for Rea at quarterback, proved himself to be a capable field general mixing up his plays successfully enough to make the Prexie passing and rushing total the greatest it has been this season.

Considering yards gained and lost through penalties, the yards gained and lost rushing, and yards gained passing both teams had a total net gain of 235 yards.

Marion Scores in 1st and Last

Springfield scored in every quarter while Marion crossed the hosts' goal line in the closing minutes of the first and last quarters and the game ended with Marion again threatening having a first down on the Springfield 10.

Springfield, after a 50 yard runback of the kickoff by House to the Marion 32, was held, being forced to kick from the Marion 31. Marion got possession of the ball on about their own goal line and ran it out to the six before Jim Hill punted to the 32.

Roberts scored on a quarterback sneak from less than a yard out. Left end Don Wright, who was to send four placements through the uprights last night, converted.

Springfield Scores Again

Springfield scored in the second quarter on a drive that carried from their own 25. House almost caught behind the goal line, shook free and slanted off left tackle from the Marion seven to score.

A 65 yard drive, which was started in the second quarter when Coss intercepted Wheeler's pass on the Marion 15 and scooted to the Marion 35, resulted in the first Harding score. Dick Gherman caught a pass in the end zone for the tally. Gherman's attempted drop kick failed.

Springfield scored in the third quarter after a drive from the Marion 35. House plunged from the three. Wright sent another over the cross-bar with yards to spare.

In the last stanza a fumble by Hill was recovered by Springfield on the Marion 36 and House scored from the one. Wright converted.

Marion Scores Last

The final score of the game was made when Coss passed to Smith from the Springfield 42. Although the ball was almost deflected by a Wildcat secondary Smith took it on about the ten and fought his way over the goal line. Gherman attempted a drop kick which was wide.

Aside from the touchdown drives Marion threatened twice, driving to the Springfield eight in the second quarter and at the end of the game.

The timekeepers were guilty of an infraction of rules when they sounded the game ending gun during an official time out. The lights were dimmed and then came on again, The Prexies having time for two more plays.

Youngstown, Kent State Win To Stay Near Ohio Grid Top

By The Associated Press

Youngstown and Kent State remained near the top of Ohio's college football standings by winning final games last night, and Hiram college's first team since 1942 wound up its campaign with victory No. 5.

At Youngstown, the visiting Waynesburg (Pa.) College Yellow Jackets caused 7,500 fans a few uneasy moments by recovering a Youngstown fumble on the 19 and scoring midway in the first period. Youngstown came back to score in the same quarter and again in each of the next three periods. Quarterback Mike Durina passed for two touchdowns and rounded right end for the final one. Final score, Youngstown 25, Waynesburg 7.

Seventh Triumph

The victory was Youngstown's seventh in eight games.

About 15,000 Akron fans watched Kent State trip the Akron Zippers 13-6 for the Golden Flashes sixth triumph in eight starts and Akron's fourth loss in eight.

The flashes took the lead with a 35-yard pass from Tommy Kot to Bill Moritz on the fourth play of the game. Akron came back in the same period to score on a 65-yard march, with Whitey Wall passing to Jim Finn for the touchdown. But Virgil Roman's conversion for Kent was good and Akron's try for point was blocked. In the second period Wilbur Little, a substitute Kent back, plunged over from the three for another score.

Hiram's terriers won a 27-0 victory over a Western Reserve university "B" team at Hiram yesterday afternoon.

Newark Baseball Club Gets New Park for 1947 Season

Special to The Star

NEWARK, O., Nov. 16—For its fourth year of professional baseball Newark will have a new park in which to play its Ohio State league games, it was learned here today.

Lilis "Doc" Perkins, business manager of the club, disclosed Friday that Harry Arnold, club president, has purchased a former circus grounds and donated the site to the Newark club at a meeting of the board of directors of the club yesterday.

The new playing field will be directly across the street from the old White Field grounds where Newark played in 1944, '45 and '46.

John P. Schooley of Columbus is the architect. Plans call for a seating capacity of 5,000. However, until steel is available a wooden grandstand must be erected and it will limit the proposed seating capacity.

Newark will open its 1947 season at White field, moving to the new park around June 1.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—The pro footballers have discovered a big jump in the number of penalties in the National league this year and figure it is because every player is in there trying . . . This season officials have called an average of 21.7 penalties per game an enforced 15.3 of them after the offended team had a chance to decline as compared to 12.6 enforced penalties in 1945 games . . . "It's simple," explains one student of statistics. "It's a close race and there's competition on the teams so everybody is working hard on every play. You don't get penalizedu unless you do something."

Steel Plato

In a recent Big Six football game, an opposing tackle slugged Oklahoma's big Plato Andros right on the chin. Plato didn't even blink and the other guy apologized for his hasty action . . . "That's all right, Podner," Andros told him (in approved cowboy language), "that's the way to play football." . . . Later Plato explained "That hurt him a lot more than if I'd cocked a Sunday on him and it didn't cost us as many yards."

Light-Heavy Champ To Make U. S. Title Defense.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—World light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich will make the first United States defense of his crown in five years Feb. 28 when he meets Billy Fox, the Philadelphia flattener, in Madison Square Garden.

The Cliffside Park, N. J., champ and the Quaker City Negro who has piled up 41 straight knockouts in his professional career were signed yesterday to tangle Feb. 21 in the garden. But before the ink was dry on the contract, Promoter Mike Jacobs set the date back a week in order that Fox might get in two tune-up bouts in Philadelphia. One of these is slated for Dec. 9, with Shelton Bell of Youngstown, O., as the probable opponent. The second is tentatively scheduled for Jan. 6.

Fight Doesn't Worry Louis

Violent Ray-Jersey Joe Walcott Bout Won't Keep Champ Awake.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—Of all the heavyweights in the world today, Joe Louis is probably palpitating the least at the moment over the closer-than-the-buttons-on-your-vest decision Elmer Ray pinned on Jersey Joe Walcott.

The beak-busting in Madison Square Garden last night figured to provide the challenger Louis is going to take on in a heavyweight defense next summer.

Well, Elmer came squeaking through with this narrow one over Joyous Joe for the entertainment of 17,413 customers who chipped in to a fancy pot of $97,309. This one was as close as your next breath, with two of the three officials splitting on their ballots and the third voting it five-rounds-and-five, and giving Ray the "duke" on the slim edge of one point—9 to 8—which, incidentally, is what they paid off on.

The Associated Press score card gave it to Ray on his let's-walk-in-and-wallop style, five rounds to three, with two even.

Off last night's job of knit-two-and-purl-one, the general impression is that if either of them has designs on the Brown Bomber's bauble, he'd better show up equipped with tommy gun and flat vest.

Ray, 191¼ pounds, hails from Hastings, Fla. and Minneapolis. He has been known to the trade as the Violent Ray for some time now, since he began building up a string of 18 straight wins up to and including last night's larruping.

Elmer staggered Jersey Joe, 194½, once during the proceedings, and won four of the five rounds from the third through the eighth. But he practically won those by default, as Joe just "ran out of gas" according to his own manager, despite a galloping finish.

Lima Central And Troy End Seasons Atop Grid Pinnacle

By The Associated Press

Lima Central High school's Dragons ended their season last night by thumping Lima South 32-0 for their tenth straight victory, and Troy preserved its unbeaten and untied record with a 12-6 triumph over Piqua.

Lima Central has scored 294 points this season to 48 for opponents and ranks with Upper Arlington of the Columbus area at the top among class A central Ohio scholastic elevens. Upper Arlington ended an unbeaten-untied season last week.

Once-beaten Toledo Waite swamped Toledo Devilbiss 60-0; and Toledo Libbey, which beat 8-6, handed Barberton's Magics their second defeat of the season 19-7. Libbey played a scoreless tie with Toledo Woodward, but later erased that tie with a 40-13 victory.

In other Friday games Mansfield trimmed Martins Ferry 32-14, Portsmouth walloped neighboring New Boston 52-0, Springfield beat Marion 28-12, Alliance blanked Canton Timken 19-0, and Steubenville and Erie Pa., Tech played to a 19-19 deadlock.

ILLINI RATE SLIGHT EDGE OVER BUCKEYES

62,000 Expected at "Make or Break" Tussle.

By The Associated Press

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 16—Illinois, the Western conference's leader, attempted to keep its title hopes—and a possible Rose Bowl bid alive today against the high-powered Ohio State Buckeyes, who have gained more yardage than any team in the Big Nine this year.

A crowd of some 62,000 was expected for the 'make or break' tussle, with Illinois ruling a slight edge. The Illini enter the game at top strength after a two-week layoff from competition.

The Illini have lost only to Indiana, 14-7, in their only setback in five conference starts while Ohio State has been beaten by Wisconsin and tied by Purdue. But since then, George Spencer, a foxy quarterback who has developed into a fine passer has piloted the Buckeyes to a pair of 39-point performances over Northwestern and Minnesota.

Texas Small Fry Wins Race at 13

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Henry Ernest Taubert Jr., has experienced an outboard racing victory at the age of 13 and needless to say it has agreed with him. He now has his eyes on plenty more.

But there's no reason why he shouldn't be good at it; he literally grew up with stars of the speedy boating corps. Henry was mascot of the Alamo Boat club at the age of two.

When he was five, his father, then and now one of San Antonio's top motorboat racers, skimmed his outboard to a world's record at Medina Lake here. The victory impressed Henry very much.

Recently, he got the real thrill when he led a field of well-known men drivers in a class A amateur hydroplane heat at Enid, Okla., then drove the same course in a second heat a few minutes later to take second.

His father, who established the world's mark that since has been broken, is a professional driver who specializes in the faster class C professional hydroplane and runabout events. It was July 17, 1938, that Taubert Sr., hit 49.11 miles per hour for five miles in a class C professional runabout. The National Outboard Racing commission's certificate and the American Power boat association's medal for the feat rest among the many trophies and awards at the Taubert home.

Young Taubert has been getting the feel of an outboard racer for the past two years but began actual racing only this year. He's now sitting pretty with his own motor which his father recently bought and helped rebuild for him.

"How often do you go out for a practice run?" the boy was asked. "I don't," he answered. "Dad said that you don't put speed in your motor when you practice; you take it out."

Cabbies To Meet Bombers On Dayton Field Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Marion Safety Cab A. C.'s will travel to Dayton to play the powerful Dayton Bombers a return match. Previously the Cabbies held the Bombers to a six-point lead, the smallest margin that the Negro semi-pros had been held to in [illegible] years of playing.

The next Cabbie home game will be a player benefit with another powerful Dayton team, the Dukes, Wednesday night at the stadium. It is not at all improbable that the Dukes will have the Marion team well scouted by the time they arrive.

Marion's hopes of avenging their previous loss rest mainly on whether they will be able to bottle up Bob Ivey who was one of the best backs that the Cabbies ever played against. The interesting thing about this stellar back is that he is a former resident of Marion who moved to Dayton only about seven months ago.

Never Played Amateur

Although never playing on college or high school team, the player gained experience in sandlot football and this experience coupled with his natural talent make him a threat every time he packs the pig skin.

Marion has improved as an offensive club in their last [illegible] games, but this team they are meeting tomorrow will be a much more formidable outfit than the last two clubs that Marion has run up against.

This will be the second time that the Marion semi-pros have played a return engagement and in the return match, they avenged a loss to Galion. Whether they will be able to do this tomorrow remains to be seen.

Face Traveling Jinx

Marion has played two out-of-town games and lost both of them, and will again be up against an out-of-town jinx. The last time the club took a trip they were smashed 31 to 0 by the St. Joe A. C.'s of Fort Wayne and Dayton will be prepped for this game because Marion gave them their best fight this season.

Ned Samples, a capable performer at tackle for the Cabbies will be out for the rest of the season because of a dislocated shoulder suffered in the last game. Aside from that injury, the Cabbies will be able to throw their full strength into the contest.

The probable Cabbie line up for this game will be: Richardson or Roseberry ends; Russel and Fair, tackles, Obenour and Strope guards; Benson center; Simmons quarterback. Williams and Ca[illegible] or Belknap, halves, and Harvey, fullback.

TOP TEAMS CLASH IN HOCKEY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

The leader and runner-up in the eastern division of the American Hockey league tangle tonight in one of five interesting contests down for decision.

The Hershey Bears, currently in the van by three points, entertain the New Haven Ramblers. Hershey has won nine, lost four and tied one, while the Ramblers have seven wins, five losses and two ties on their slate.

In other games tonight, Providence visits last-place Philadelphia, St. Louis at Pittsburgh, Buffalo at Cleveland and Indianapolis at Springfield.

Indianapolis and Cleveland currently are tied for the leadership of the Western division.

Tomorrow night, four games are booked, with Pittsburgh invading Buffalo, Indianapolis traveling to New Haven, Hershey [illegible] Providence and Cleveland going to St. Louis.

Browns, Yankees Could Sew It Up in All-America Pro League

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—The Cleveland Browns and New York Yankees can clinch a tie for the titles in the two divisions of the All-America football conference tomorrow and, with the proper cooperation from the Los Angeles Dons the Yankees could win the eastern championship outright.

Only three games are scheduled in the younger of the two major professional circuits tomorrow afternoon but all of them will have a direct bearing on the title race. The Chicago Rockets will be at Cleveland with the San Francisco Forty-Niners at New York and Los Angeles invading the home of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Could Sew It Up

A triumph for the Yankees would give them a record of eight victories, two losses and a tie, with three more games to play. The Dodgers, runners-up in the eastern division, must defeat the Dons to retain a mathematical chance to share in the title.

Cleveland can boost its record to nine wins and two losses by beating Chicago but it would take a San Francisco defeat to enable the Browns to sew up a share of the western town. With six victories and four defeats, the Forty-Niners now are only two games behind the Browns.

In the National league, meanwhile, a full slate of five games is on tap but it may be another week or two before the division winners are determined, if

Bears, Redskin Game Crucial

Probably the most important of tomorrow's games in the senior circuit will be the one in Chicago between the Bears, who lead the western division by a game and a half, and the Washington Redskins, second-place team in the eastern standings.

The New York Giants, now on top in the east by half a game will entertain the last-place Boston Yanks giving the big town three professional games on the same afternoon for the second straight week.

The Philadelphia Eagles and Pittsburgh Steelers, both still in the running for the eastern title, collide at Pittsburgh while the Green Bay Packers, runners-up in the western division, will be at Detroit and the Chicago Cardinals will be at Los Angeles.

Notre Dame, Army Still Hog Grid Spotlight

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 16 — The Notre Dame-Army game of a week ago is ancient history, but the two top contenders for the nation's mythical grid title come up again today for a major share of attention in the country's grid picture.

At Philadelphia, Penn's mighty Quakers are poised to explode against the battle-weary Cadets whose 0-0 tie with the Irish was their only non-winning effort in 26 games. Franklin Field is 78,000 sellout for this one.

Wildcats Ready for Irish

Northwestern's Wildcats wait to claw Notre Dame's 20-victory string in a game that promises plenty of action for an expected 56,000 at South Bend, Ind. Northwestern last spilled the Irish in 1940 but never has beaten a Frank Leahy-coached team.

The country's only two major unbeaten and untied teams, Georgia and the University of California at Los Angeles—currently third and fourth in the national rankings — aim to stay right up there and even possibly overtake the leaders. The Bulldogs take on an unimpressive Auburn eleven while out on the coast UCLA entertains Montana.

Ivy and tradition clutters the program in the East. Princeton plays Yale in the big bowl in the 69th renewal of this series, while Harvard, current Ivy League leader, entertains battered Brown in the Crimson's perennial tune-up for Yale. Dartmouth is on the menu for Cornell, rebounding from its Syracuse upset.

Syracuse at Colgate

Syracuse and Colgate tangle with the upstate pennant at stake and Rutgers is expected to hammer Lehigh and take the Middle Three crown. Luckless Navy is still seeking its second victory with rugged Penn State standing in the way.

Tennessee goes to Boston for an intersectional tilt with B. C., and the Eagles can dampen the Vols' bowl hopes and strengthen their own position by winning this one.

In the Southern Conference, South Carolina's undefeated record in league competition faces a threat in Duke. Georgia Tech meets Tulane and Alabama tries Vanderbilt. An intersectional battle tonight pits Villanova against Florida.

Aside from the Notre Dame-Northwestern argument, the standout in the midwest is at Champaign, Ill., where first-place Illinois and third-place Ohio State occupy the Big Nine spotlight. Wisconsin's invasion of Michigan and Iowa's visit to Minnesota also have title significance.

Big Six at Stake

Missouri's leadership in the Big Six is at stake in the Tigers' game with Oklahoma. Kansas meets Kansas State and Nebraska engages Iowa State in games that could throw the conference into a four-day tie for first place.

Arkansas, pace-setter in the Southwestern Conference, entertains Southern Methodist. Texas and Texas A. and M., currently tied for second place, are favored over their respective opponents, Texas Christian and Rice.

Musical Show Now At Ohio

"Three Little Girls in Blue" Has June Haver in Leading Role.

"Three Little Girls in Blue," a technicolor musical now playing through Monday at the Ohio theater, features a star-studded cast headed by June Haver, George Montgomery, Vivian Blaine, Celeste Holm, Vera-Ellen and Frank Latimore.

A gay and romantic musical, the story unfolds the amusing adventures of three pretty sisters who sell their farm to go on a millionaire husband-hunting expedition at Atlantic City. June Haver, Vivian Blaine and Vera-Ellen are the three sisters who pool their small inheritance so that one of them can act the "grand lady," with the other two posing as her secretary and maid.

Their plan is very successful at the start, as not one, but two handsome young millionaires, George Montgomery and Frank Latimore, rush June Haver, who was chosen as the lucky girl. However, just as things are getting settled, the girls' funds give out, love takes a surprise turn and man-hunting Celeste Holm turns up to add to the confusion. The story is set against the background of Atlantic City at the turn of the century, and introduces eight new song hits.

Highlighting the film is a number of songs by the girls who play the sisters, and also a spectacular dance routine by Vera-Ellen.

Bette Davis, Paul Henreid and Claude Rains are starred in the romantic drama, "Deception," which has been billed to open Tuesday at the Ohio theater. It will be shown for seven days.

It is the story of a beautiful woman who loves two men and accuses the one man of trying to bring ruin to the other. The woman is Bette Davis, and the two men in her life are Paul Henreid and Claude Rains, with Rains sharing equally the mantle of heroism and villainy as a great composer-conductor.

The story in "A Night In Casablanca" concerns a small, but dangerous, group of disguised Nazi men, who make a luxurious hotel in post-war Casablanca their headquarters. However, with Groucho temporarily made the manager of this hiding place for fabulous stolen European art treasures and precious jewels, the Nazis become slightly frustrated.

In addition to this, Harpo, as a wacky valet, and Chico as a completely zany camel driver, further confuse the Nazis in their course of work. Lisette Verea plays an adventuress in league with the thieves.

A double feature, "Gallant Bess" and "The Cockeyed Miracle," will be shown Thursday through Saturday. Starred in the former picture which is photographed in natural color are Marshall Thompson, George Tobias, Clem Bevans and "Bess." The cast in the latter includes Frank Morgan, Keenan Wynn, Cecil Kellaway and Audrey Totter.

The plot in "Gallant Bess" centers about young Tex Barton who dreams of owning a horse ranch of his own, and builds his hopes on his devoted mare, "Bess." However his plans are interrupted by the war and his enlistment in the Seabees. Then "Bess" dies and Tex cannot take his mind from the horse that he loved even though he is shipped overseas. But in the midst of the island, Tex discovers another horse who had been abandoned and before long she takes the place in his heart left by the death of the other horse. When Tex is wounded and is to be shipped back to the States he insists on taking the horse with him.

"The Cockeyed Miracle" is a comedy of a couple of invisible spirits who come back to earth to work a couple of uproarious miracles for the sake of love and harmony. Keenan Wynn is seen as Ben Griggs who has died some fifty years ago but who returns to earth to claim the spirit of his son, Sam, played by Frank Morgan, who has just died. However, the latter refuses to leave until he has untangled certain money matters involving his wife, son and daughter.

The latest news will be shown with the double feature.

"Jesse James" Marion Books

Gene Tierney, Tyrone Power and Henry Fonda Star in Story of Outlaw.

"Jesse James" starring Gene Tierney, Tyrone Power and Henry Fonda, and "My Pal, Wolf" starring Sharyn Moffett with Jill Esmond, Una O'Connor, Leona Maricle and Bruce Edwards will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion theater.

The former tells of the adventures of Jesse James in his lawless career over the western states. The latter is an appealing story of a neglected youngster who turns to a runaway Army dog for companionship when her wealthy parents become too busy with their respective business enterprises in Washington to devote much time to the child.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "The Hoodlum Saint" and "I Wanted Wings." The story in the former, starring William Powell, "Rags" Ragland, and Esther Williams, revolves about an ex-army captain who is torn between a desire to win a girl and go straight, and the lure of what seems to be easy money. "I Wanted Wings" stars Ray Milland, William Holden, Wayne Morris and Brian Donlevy.

"Shadows on the Range" starring Johnny Mack Brown, "Beauty and the Bandit" with Gilbert Roland as the Cisco Kid and Ramsey Ames, and a new serial, "King of the Forest Rangers" will be shown Thursday through Saturday.

In "Shadows on the Range" Johnny Mack Brown poses as an escaped outlaw, but finally catches a sneaking gang of rustlers in possession of stolen cattle. "Beauty and the Bandit" tells of the adventures of the Cisco Kid when he learns that a chest of silver is being taken by a gang and he and his men overpower the guards and replace the original chest with a dummy.

days yet to rush into the streets and cheer. Certainly the state department is right in insisting that there must be no cheering until a really copper-bottomed, iron-rivetted agreement, with no passages written in the Yaltese language, is firmly in hand. But one can at least hope, which is a pleasant change after the last twelve months.

VETS' PRIORITIES AVAILABLE HERE

Counselor Coming in Connection with Depot Sales.

To provide veterans with priority certificates with which to purchase surplus property at the Marion Engineer Depot's surplus property sale, the war assets administration is sending T. Y. Rowe, veterans' counselor of the Toledo district office, to Marion Nov. 21 and 22.

Mr. Rowe will be at the veterans administration office here, located on the second floor of the Marion building on South Main street. His office will be open from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. on Nov. 21 and from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Nov. 22.

Inspection and sale periods for certified veterans will be Nov. 27 and 29 and Dec. 2. Their certificates give them priority second only to federal agencies.

Veterans who wish to apply for priority certificates must bring with them their discharge papers or copies of their discharge papers, Mr. Rowe said.

Veterans in business may purchase any of the items on sale at the depot, Mr. Rowe said, providing those items are for business uses. In addition, veterans may obtain priority certificates for the purchase of certain items for personal use. Among the items on the veterans set-aside list are typewriters, watches, office equipment and furniture, automobile trailers, medical and surgical equipment, certain types of hardware, and photographic equipment.

During the sale, which will open at the depot Nov. 25 and which will continue through Dec. 9, more than $2,350,000 worth of surplus commodities are expected to be sold.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"I WISH I could say that you could go directly to your room and to sleep," I told Junior and Roderick regretfully when they had followed me out into the hall. "You must be terribly fatigued."

"Tired? Us?" my young son ejaculated, with a derisive little hoot at the idea. "With all this hush-hush stuff going on? If we went to bed, we'd lie there awake and eaten alive with curiosity!"

"That's right," Roderick affirmed. Then he eyed me speculatively.

"Could it be?" he inquired, "that we're going to be needed for something?"

Take No Chances

"I don't know," I said. "It is quite possible, although not probable, that you will be. But I can't take any chances in having to get you out of bed if somebody should ask for you."

"I should say not," Junior agreed. "What do you want us to do while we're waiting?"

"A bit of camouflage—and watching," I told them. "I want you to fix up a small table in the hall near the attic stairs, but not so near that it looks as if you were watching them in particular.

"Then," I went on, "put your chess board on it, and set up your chessmen. Play as many games of chess as you like, and if any of the men ask you why you're there, say I told you to wait there in case you were needed.

Detailed Directions

"But if Aunt Lillian, Marion, Mrs. Brixton or Carolyn, ask the same question, tell them you couldn't sleep, so you thought you'de play chess, and the light in the hall was brighter. Aunt Lillian will understand, and possibly Marion. I hope the other two will think you're telling the truth."

"Neither Carolyn nor her mother are a bit dumb," Junior said sapiently.

"Indeed they're not," I agreed. "But they are the real reason for your taking up that position. If either of them tries to open the attic door or asks any questions about it, one of you tell them you don't know where the key is, and while he is talking, the other one slip away and find me, or Aunt Katharine, or one of the men, and tell them what's doing. But I am sure your camouflage won't be needed tonight."

"I sort of wish it would," Junior said a bit wistfully; "or—would that make more trouble for you, Mums?"

An Indulgent Smile

"Not too much," I told him with an indulgent smile.

"Then, Rod, let's say our prayers while we play chess," he told his cousin. "There's nothing I'd like better than to get the goat of that bird-brain, Carolyn."

"I hope you'll have the opportunity," I told him. "Now run along and set up your chess table." They dashed up the stairs as if they were being chased by furies, and I made my way to my own room, where I sat down, keeping my door open, so that I could keep watch of the corridor.

But it was a good quarter of an hour before any footsteps sounded along the corridor., I guessed that Dr. Twitchell and Katharine were seeing to it that Sam ate leisurely, and rested afterward. As for the men, my common sense, my experience and my intuition told me that the session in the secret subterranean room would be lengthy. There would be plans to make, I was sure.

Nerves Under Control.

If I had not had my nerves under iron control, I would have been quite restive by the time I frist heard Katharine's footsteps. But, as it was, I was able to greet her equably.

"In here," I called softly, and she came through the doorway, as I switched on the light.

"What's the verdict?" I asked.

"They may come for half an hour, if they behave themselves," she rejoined. "Sam is really in very good shape."

"Can the expedition wait a minute or two?" I asked.

"Five, if you need them," she answered.

"Then close the door," I whispered, "and I'll tell you why I was called away from the supper table."

300 Boxes of Soap Chips Wreck Store and Buyers

By The United Press.

INDIANAPOLIS—Ten minutes after an Indianapolis grocer put 300 boxes of soap chips out to sell, his store was in shambles. Housewives who jammed the store broke a large show window.

Several shoppers were cut and bruised, and police were called to calm the crowd. One of the injured shoppers held tightly to her box of soap chips while a doctor took two stitches in her cut knee.
